GC airman loses life

Airman First Class Daniel E. Hubble, 19, of Granite City, was injured fatally in a one-car accident 12 miles south of Big Springs, Texas, Monday. His body was returned here this week for funeral services.

Mr. Hubble was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Helen) Hubble, 2415 Cardinal Ave.

He and another airman were on their way to Webb Air Force Base, Big Springs, for work when Hubble's auto went out of control and struck a bridge abutment, according to reports.

The airman with him was injured and was admitted to the Air Force Base Hospital, but was not hurt seriously, officials said.

Mr. Hubble was an aircraft mechanic. He was born in Granite City High School until enlisting in the Air Force Nov. 7, 1972. He was a member of Calvary Baptist Church.

Surviving besides his parents are two brothers, Staff Sgt. Wesley Hubble, stationed at Clark Air Force Base in the Arm bands to identify pupils in pre-dawn

A program to aid children in being seen by motorists at dark particularly in the pre-dawn hours when many are walking to school, is being initiated by the Granite City Police Department.

Officer Friendly of the department's public relations program, Patrolman Roy Koberna, announced the program yesterday of supplying reflective arm bands which may be worn by students around a sleeve on a coat.

The bright arm bands, donated by the Flex-O-Lite Division of General Steel Industries, St. Louis, reflect the lights of cars and warn motorists of the children present far before they can be seen in the car headlights.

Koberna said he is seeking the aid of individuals or groups to cut the tape, which comes in rolls, into strips. After the material has been cut to the right size, Koberna hopes to distribute the arm bands through the Parent-Teacher

Broadway relocation work to start soon

A pre-construction conference in preparation for beginning work on the relocation of Broadway in Venice will be held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday and work is expected to get under way soon after the meeting, the Venice City Council was informed during its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The pre-construction conference, at which construction programming, including changes in utility lines, is developed, will be held in the district office of the Illinois Highway Department at Fairview Heights.

A contract for the Broadway relocation was awarded by the state Department of Transportation on Jan. 9 to Kern Construction Co., and the S. & E. Minority Contractors, Alton.

low bidder with an offer of $897,050.

The project will relocate Broadway to connect with the underpass which already has been constructed, and with approaches to FA Route 151 (The Great River Road), when it is extended from Granite City to Venice. The project has been in the making for the past 10 years.

The Council also named Lloyd H. Patterson as acting mayor until the April 16 election. The action gives Patterson all rights and powers of mayor retroactive to Jan. 1.

Patterson, who is alderman of the First Ward, has been serving with approval of the council as temporary mayor.

The council approved payment of $381 to the Roy Wenzel Research Corp., St. Louis as Venice's share of the cost of an appraisal of the Consolidated Aluminum Corp. property at College and Weaver streets.

The City of Madison is to pay a like amount, Venice Township is to pay $82 and the Madison School District 12, $1,324. The appraisal was made due to an assessment dispute.

The Council concurred with Fire Chief William Meehan's re-appointments of Thomas Scaturro and Willie Dumas as assistant chiefs, and ap-

Spring completion date for new Midland plant

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
"Some good news and some bad news" concerning the future of Archer Daniels Midland Co. here was announced by ADM officials this week.

They said the new soybean crushing plant being constructed here will open this spring, but then painted a gloomy picture for the future of the former Miles Laboratories plant in Granite City and hopes of future port developments.

The soybean processing plant, being constructed on Cargill Road at the ADM grain elevator on the east edge of the city, is about 80 per cent complete and should open in late spring, Don F. Shimon, chief ADM engineer on the project, told the Press-Record yesterday.

The Granite City Council

Monday night renewed an ordinance by which the city may issue industrial revenue bonds to assist ADM in financing the construction.

The city may issue about $4.5 million worth of bonds to finance the construction, after which the city will own the facility. ADM will lease it with lease payments being applied toward the purchase price until the company pays off the debt and assumes ownership.

Council members also were told that the East St. Louis Interurban Water Co. plans to connect a 12-inch water main to the plant. ADM estimates the facility will use 200 million gallons of water per minute. Permission must be obtained from the Interstate Commerce Commission and a hearing on the water company plea is to be held at 10 a.m. Monday, Jan. 28, in the ICC office at Springfield.

The ICC must approve the request for the water company to extend its jurisdiction to include the plant.

The council requested that City Attorney George Filcott attend the hearing.

Jim Randall, executive vice-president of ADM and president of its subsidiary, Corn Sweeteners Inc., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, predicted a dismal future for the former Marshall Division of Miles Laboratories wet corn milling plant here, announcing that all usable equipment is being moved from the plant to either the company's Cedar Rapids corn milling plant or to the new soybean plant here.

Corn Sweeteners operated the plant here from March 31, 1972, through Oct. 20, 1972, but discontinued operations as "economically unfeasible," according to company officials.

Randall said the plant is not to be torn down, but that portions of the buildings are being demolished where necessary to remove large equipment.

"We do not intend to start that corn plant up again as it now is," Shimon agreed. He said if the plant ever reopens, "We would almost have to start all over again," Shimon said. He added that new corn milling processes require buildings quite different from those existing on the former Miles site.

Randall summarized, "We will continue the corn mill operations there and have no made any long-term plans for the remainder of the plant. ADM does operate a carmel coloration for soft drinks in a portion of the plant here, employing about 15 persons.

Randall said the corn milling industry presently remains under price controls by the Civil Living Council.

"If those guidelines are removed, we certainly will need at least one more corn milling plant besides our Cedar Rapids facility. In that case, we certainly would look at Granite City again," he projected.

Randall said all plans for construction of a new large loading elevator at the Tri-City Regional Port have been labeled "That is a dead issue with us right now," he said.

He added the whole grain industry "has improved quite a bit," and if the market continues to improve, Granite City will remain a prime contender for future ADM planning.

Alert centenarian marks birthday

Charles Stewart came to Granite City in 1904 from Pittsburgh, Pa., to work in the rolling mill. He became a top-flight roller with the National Enamel and Stamping Co., the forerunner of Granite City Steel, before quitting his job in 1927 to run his own tent and awning firm.

On Sunday, Mr. Stewart will celebrate his 100th birthday with members of his family, one day earlier than his actual birthday on Monday, Jan. 28.

Mr. Stewart resides at the Illinois Masonic Home at Sullivan, where he holds the distinction of being the oldest person among a total of more than 500 senior men and women residents.

"He's still quite a character and his health is absolutely fine," his daughter, Mrs. Helen Meyer of Granite City said this week.

"He watches television and listens to the radio and talks to everybody," she said, adding, "He still likes to go for a walk outdoors."

Mrs. Meyer said her father's reading ability has been cut down since he had cataracts removed from his eyes some time ago. "But he can enjoy watching the television without any problem."

Mr. Stewart has lived at the Illinois Masonic Home the past 13 years. He is a charter member of Granite City Lodge 877 and some years ago received his 30-year Masonic pin.

Besides Mrs. Meyer, he has a son, Harold Stewart and another daughter, Mrs. Carrie Jansen, living in Granite City.

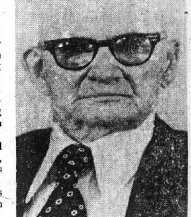

Mr. Stewart also has five grandchildren, 13 great-grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

His wife, Mrs. Carrie Stewart, died in 1945.

After working as a roller for many years and "dabbling on the side" in the tent and awning business, Mr. Stewart decided to employ his efforts on a fulltime basis to his own firm—the Tri-City Tent and Awning Co., located at 1316 Madison Ave., Madison.

He ran the company until retiring about 20 years ago, shortly after he turned 80 years old.

"Dad is very alert and walks around all the time visiting with the other residents," Mrs. Meyer said. "He will certainly enjoy his party on Sunday," she added.

New tax rate vote in Venice

A third attempt to obtain voter approval of an 80-cent increase in the educational fund tax rate of Venice School District 3 will be made in a special election scheduled Friday, March 1.

The new election date was set by the Board of Education in a meeting Monday night.

In a previous election of Dec. 7, voters rejected the 80-cent tax rate increase by a vote of 250 to 211. Last June 30 a proposal to increase the tax rate by $1.20 per $100 assessed valuation, was rejected by a substantial majority in a light vote.

The board decided to conduct the March 1 balloting in the same two polling precincts used previously, one at the Venice Recreation Center at 305 Broadway for residents living within the city of Venice, and the other at the Eagle Park Improvement Association building, 100 Hill St., Eagle Park, for voters living outside the Venice corporate boundaries.

The rate increase is being sought to solve financial problems resulting from a deficit of approximately $500,000 which the district owes its working cash fund, for outstanding tax anticipation warrants and for other bills.

Superintendent John Pier

said that unless the increased tax rate is authorized, the district faces financial bankruptcy and probable merger with another district.

The present maximum educational fund rate is $2.05 per $100 assessed valuation.

The board Monday night approved the hiring of Tim Tolliver as a grade school custodian, and of Mrs. Julia Cuiolis as a substitute in the nurses aide program.

The board also accepted two applications to attend junior college. They were received

Youth found dead in field

David Parks, 20, of 5151 Old Alton Road, was found dead in a field between the Gaslight Walk Apartments in Ponton Beach and the Archer Daniels Midland Co. grain elevator on Cargill Road at 10 a.m. Wednesday. He had been missing since Friday night.

An autopsy conducted here Wednesday revealed no apparent signs of violence connected with the death.

Blood and other samples were taken to be analyzed, with the results expected in a week to 10 days.

A friend said he last saw him

Friday night when he walked into the field. He said Mr. Parks had taken some pills.

His car had been left in the 2100 block of Lynch Avenue since Friday night. Authorities had the auto towed after the body was discovered.

Mr. Parks was to have appeared today for a preliminary hearing in Madison County Circuit Court on a burglary charge. He allegedly removed several items from the home of Ernest Barry, 3233 Kearney Drive, Jan. 13.

Authorities said he recently

Madison County crime is on decrease, judges say

Crime in Madison County is decreasing, according to three judges of the Third Judicial Circuit Court who spoke at the Evening Kiwanis Club meeting Monday in Charlie's Restaurant.

The speakers were William Beatty of Granite City, Moses Harrison of Collinsville and Victor Mosele of Alton.

The Third Judicial Circuit is one of 23 districts in the state and serves Madison and Bond County with a population in excess of 300,000, with eight circuit judges and eight associate circuit judges.

"The Kiwanians were told that in past years it could take case to go to trial; but that this time has been cut to about 14 months in most criminal cases."

It was noted that circumstances generally prolong civil cases such as a doctor not releasing a person injured in an auto accident.

Many times citizens criticize the courts and fail to realize it is not the judge who turns someone free, but rather it is the laws of the state which the court must follow, the speaker noted.

They said the Madison County jail needs to be replaced, noting that it is condemned each year by the state, but monies are not available to build a new facility.

The present jail was built for 30 to 40 prisoners. It frequently houses as many as 60, causing young people who stand a good chance to be rehabilitated to be thrown in with homosexuals and hardened criminals, according to the judges.

Any organization interested in a member of the court speaking to its group should write Chief Judge Fred Scumman, the judges said.

Kiwanis President Howard Ebertson announced that there would be a mid-winter District 14 conference at the Roundtable Restaurant, near Collinsville, beginning at 6:30 p.m. on Feb. 13.

Dan 'Titan' Trtanj dies

Dan "Titan" Trtanj, 79, of 1126 Reynolds St., Madison, died at 10:10 p.m. Monday at St. Mary's Hospital, Richmond Heights, Mo., where he had been a patient one month. He had been ill two years.

Mr. Trtanj was born in Yugoslavia and resided in Madison 67 years. He retired in December 1959 as a chipper at American Steel Foundries where he was employed 37 years. He was a member of the company's 25-Year Club.

He also was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church of Madison and Lodge Velebit 222, Croatian Fraternal Union of Madison.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Frances Trtanj (Crnkovich); three sons, Mike Trtanj, Zelko Trtanj and Dr. Albert W. Trtanj, all of Granite City; two daughters, Miss Ann Trtanj of Madison and Miss Janette Trtanj of Granite City, and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

(8) To contract with municipalities or other political subdivisions for the services or use of any facility owned or operated by the Council of Governments, or owned or operated by any such municipality or other political subdivision;

(9) To borrow money for the acquisition, planning, construction and operation of any facility which it has the power to own or to operate, and to issue the negotiable instruments in writing for the purpose of refunding, extending or unifying the whole or any part of its valid indebtedness from time to time outstanding, whether evidenced by notes, bonds or other instruments in writing, which refunding, extending or unifying the whole or any part of its valid indebtedness from time to time outstanding, whether evidenced by notes, bonds or other instruments in writing, shall not exceed in amount the principal of the outstanding indebtedness to be refunded and the accrued interest thereon to the date of such refunding;

(10) To issue negotiable refunding notes, bonds or other instruments in writing for the purpose of refunding, extending or unifying the whole or any part of its valid indebtedness from time to time outstanding, whether evidenced by notes, bonds or other instruments in writing, which refunding, extending or unifying the whole or any part of its valid indebtedness from time to time outstanding, whether evidenced by notes, bonds or other instruments in writing, shall not exceed in amount the principal of the outstanding indebtedness to be refunded and the accrued interest thereon to the date of such refunding;

(11) To provide that all negotiable notes, bonds or other instruments in writing issued either pursuant to subdivision (4) or (10) hereof shall be payable, both as to principal and interest, out of the revenues collected for the use of any facility or combination of facilities owned or operated and owned and operated by the Council of Governments—

Or out of any other resources of the Council of Governments, and may be further secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon any property owned by the Council of Governments.

All notes, bonds or other instruments in writing issued by the Council of Governments shall mature in not to exceed 30 years from the date thereof shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding 7 per cent per annum, and shall be sold for not less than 95 per cent of the par value thereof.

The Council of Governments shall have the power to prescribe the details of such notes, bonds or other instruments in writing, and of the issuance and sale, thereof, and shall have power to enter into covenants with the holders of such notes, bonds or other instruments in writing, not inconsistent with the powers granted to the Council of Governments, without further legislative authority.

(12) To condemn any and all rights or property, of any kind or character, necessary for the purposes of the Council of Governments; subject, however, to the provisions of the aforesaid compact.

Provided, however, that no rights or property of any kind or character, now or hereafter owned, leased, controlled, operated or used, in whole or in part, by any common carrier engaged in interstate commerce, shall be taken or appropriated by the Council of Governments without first obtaining the written consent and approval of such common carrier or of the owner or operator of such grain elevator.

If the property to be condemned be situated in Illinois, the Council of Governments shall follow the procedure of the act of the state of Illinois providing for the exercise of the right of eminent domain;

If the property to be condemned be situated in the state of Missouri, the Council shall follow the procedure provided by the laws of Missouri for the appropriation of land or other property taken for telegraph, telephone or railroad rights-of-way; and

(13) To make plans for the development of the district in the fields of housing, solid waste disposal, health, air quality, manpower, law enforcement and economic development. No specific planning or operating powers shall be assumed by SLACOG until the Council formally defines and approves the precise nature of such planning or operating responsibility;

(14) To act as a regional clearing house for federal and or state projects requiring a review by such body;

(15) To levy a per capita assessment, not to exceed ten cents per capita, upon all cities and counties directly represented on the Board of Directors.

County per capita payments shall be reduced by the amounts actually paid by cities within their jurisdictions who have direct representation on the Board of Directors.

In the event a county is asked to pay the assessment for one of its cities because of that city's nonpayment, the county will be entitled to select an additional representative to replace the nonpaying city's representatives on the Board;

(16) To charge and collect fees, over and above the general assessments upon member cities and counties, for services provided directly to local units of government;

(17) To contract and to be contracted with, and to sue and to be sued in contract;

(18) To exercise such additional powers as shall be conferred on it by the legislature of either state occurred in by the legislature of the other or by act of Congress;

Nor shall anything herein impair or invalidate in any way any bonded indebtedness of any such state, county, city, borough, village, township or other political subdivision, nor impair the provisions of law relating to the payment into sinking funds of revenues derived from property, or dedicating the revenues derived from any municipal property to a specific purpose.

The proposed law as presently drafted would not impair the powers of any municipality to develop or improve a terminal or other facilities.

The district of the Council of Governments would consist of the City of St. Louis; the Missouri counties of St. Louis, St. Charles, Jefferson and Franklin; and the Illinois counties of Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and Clinton.

All municipalities and counties in the Missouri-Illinois metropolitan district would have to be members of the St. Louis Area Council of Governments.

The governing body of the Council would be a 28-member Board of Directors, 14 from each state.

Twenty-two of the members, 11 from each state, would be elected officials of general municipal governments. Six of these, three from each state, would be public members.

It is related that "the specific composition of the membership of the Board of Directors shall be as provided by law." In all events, equal representation on the Board of Directors shall be maintained by the states of Missouri and Illinois.

There would be a regional forum of citizens to provide input to the St. Louis Area Council of Governments, to identify major community concerns and public needs.

The regional forum would be composed of an equal number of persons, not holding elected public office, would be eligible for membership on the forum.

The board of SLACOG would determine the method of selecting members of the regional forum.

The Council of Governments would elect from its number a chairman and a vice chairman, and it could appoint such officers and employees as it might require for the performance of its duties. It would fix and determine their qualifications and duties.

The chairman would appoint a professional executive director, subject to the advice and consent of the board.

The executive director would be responsible for all professional staff, including those assigned to support any technical committees, task forces or other functional groups.

SLACOG would establish an advisory committee or committees which might include citizens, professional specialists, and state and local elected and/or appointed officials.

All actions of the St. Louis Area Council of Governments and its board would be resolved by a majority vote of the board membership present, except when a request is made by any member for separate voting by state.

In such cases, the chairman would call for separate votes by the Missouri and Illinois board members present.

If two-thirds of either state delegation of board members personal, owned or held by cities, and by the interest income derived from notes, bonds or other instruments in writing issued by cities.

Any notes, bonds or other instruments in writing issued by SLACOG would be securities in which all state and municipal officers and bodies, all persons carrying on a banking business, all carrying on an insurance business.

And all administrators, executors, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries and all other persons authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of the state could properly and legally invest any funds, including capital, belonging to them, or within their control.

The Council of Governments could have power to apply to Congress for the consent or approval of the compact.

In the absence of such consent of Congress and until it has been secured, the compact would be binding on the states of Illinois and Missouri in all respects permitted by law for the two states to cooperate, for the purposes enumerated in the compact.

Members of the Council of Governments board of directors would serve without compensation.

They would be entitled to be reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in performing their duties.

State will lower speed to 55—but reluctantly

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The decision of the Illinois legislature to go slow in enacting a lower speed limit reflects not only the public mood in Illinois but probably across the nation as well.

Legislators are usually as knowledgeable as anyone as to what the man-in-the street is thinking, especially in an election year.

The word reaching the Capital City from the grassroots is that while the average citizen wants something done about the energy crisis at all possible levels, he isn't convinced that the situation is serious enough to force major disruption in his life style.

Lowering the current Illinois speed limit of 70 miles per hour for cars on interstate routes and 85 on other major highways, to 55 m.p.h., comes under this category.

Sooner or later, Illinois will have to comply with the national limit established by act of Congress and signed into law by President Nixon—or face the cutoff of massive federal funds for highway construction.

The legislators have seen fit not to rush into prompt passage of a law on the federal model, but to hold a series of joint House-Senate committee hearings.

The hearings will acquaint their constituents with the situation and perhaps come up with a law that will be less an irritant than the flat 55 m.p.h. Congressional limit.

Sen. John Connally, R-Waukegan, wants a new speed limit law that would lessen the chance of a motorist losing his driving privileges if arrested three times within a year's time for driving faster than 55.

Under existing law, this would happen automatically. Connolly would like to make an exception for the 35 times subject the violating motorist only to a fine for speeding rather than saddling him with the formal charge of a "moving violation."

Other lawmakers would like to ease the limit for trucks, which stream across Illinois in huge numbers, Chicago and the Granite City-Madison-Venice area being among the major trucking centers.

However, whether Illinois could get by with setting a higher limit for trucks than the 55 national limit is questionable.

The main objective of the legislative hearings, however, is to prepare the Illinois driving public for the impact of lower speed limits.

Gov. Daniel Walker, credited by professional politicians as being as adept as anyone in reading the public pulse, was careful in his recent State of the State Address not to pressure the legislature into hasty action on a speed law.

He said only that "we should comply as soon as practicable with federal legislation requiring the state to lower its speed limits."

It is significant that the governor, while concentrating on energy matters, placed the emphasis on measures such as further development of Illinois coal resources.

A major revival of the once vast Illinois coal mining industry would be an immense boost to the state's economy and would be politically popular.

By contrast, a reduction in driving speed is not likely to attract votes for any politician or party.

REVIEW Soviet oil strategy analyzed

POLITICS AND OIL:
Moscow In The Middle East;
by Lincoln Landis; Dunellen;
201 pages; $12.95.

Reviewed By
L. EDGAR PRINA

Against a historical background of czarist aspirations and Communist global goals, Dr. Landis, senior political scientist at Battelle Memorial Institute, has produced in this timely volume a masterful analysis of Soviet interest in the oil riches of the Middle East.

He points out that, while it would be difficult to contend petroleum as such has ever comprised the USSR's primary interest in the region, the Russians are using oil to advance both their short-range and long-term strategic, political and economic goals.

The Soviet Union is one of the world's largest producers of oil and has vast reserves, proved and potential. Nevertheless, it lives with a "petroleum paradox," as Landis puts it.

This is the apparent contradiction posed by appraisals "that the Soviet petroleum industry is, simultaneously, deficient and competitive.

"The former case is suggested by the contrast of the abundant reserves with reports of continuing discrepancies in planning, development and operation of Soviet oil and natural gas industries, that such Soviet production appears inadequate to meet rising petroleum requirements; it is given credence by a recent series of agreements providing for the import of Middle East petroleum by the USSR and the majority of the Soviet bloc," he writes.

"At the same time, the Soviet industry appears competitive as a rival marketer of Middle East petroleum-exporting countries, based upon present Soviet exports to Eastern and Western Europe and Japan, coupled with Soviet negotiations for long-term expansion of its deliveries of crude oil and natural gas to Western Europe, Japan and, recently, the United States."

As a case in point, Landis notes that during the Arab-Israeli crisis and war in 1967, the USSR actively encouraged an Arab oil boycott of the West while unabashedly seeking to grab the market for itself.

To explain the paradox, the author turns to the Marxist-Leninist formula for world Socialist planned economy and a world energy delivery system, suggesting that the USSR may assume preliminary roles of producer and major importer of Middle East oil and a broker for the region's industry.

"Ultimately the USSR could, within the world energy delivery system concept, acquire a strategic middleman role by simultaneously importing major quantities of petroleum from the national sector of Middle East countries on a barter basis and, after satisfying domestic needs, exporting crude oil and natural gas from its reservoir of Middle East and indigenous production to traditional Middle East customers of the capitalist world," he says.

With such a trade pattern, the Soviets could obtain increased amounts of hard currency with which to purchase Western technology and perhaps achieve a position of

Rachmaninoff without sneers

Once it was customary to sneer at Rachmaninoff as a hopeless Russian romantic. But the critics are long dead — and Rachmaninoff's music lives on (the theme from the Concerto No. 2 in C Minor even survived the Hit Parade back in the 1930's and 1940's).

Van Cliburn, a Texan with tremendous power in his fingers, is the star performer in two more releases from RCA's Rachmaninoff centennial series: The Great Rachmaninoff Concertos (No. 2 and No. 3) on a two-record album, and the Sonata No. 2 in B-Flat Minor and five preludes on the other.

The beauty and pathos of the two concertos surges forth as Van Cliburn plays them with the Chicago Symphony and the Symphony of the Air. He also performs the Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini, with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra. RCA has arranged the two LPs so that the listener doesn't have to change to the back of a record to hear a full concerto; thus the mood is continuous.

The B-Flat minor sonata was recorded live in Moscow, site of so many Van Cliburn triumphs, in 1960. It is music of towering complexity and demands a pianist of Van Cliburn's skill. The recording is good, although, as in any live performance, a number of coughers also make a bid for posterity.

Walter Carlos, you and the Moog Synthesizer are superb. They combine in presenting a Bach who is as fresh and modern as a computer circuit. This is Columbia's Records' "Switched-On Bach IV" — and it is every bit as good as the best-selling "Switched-On Bach" that appeared back in 1968. Probably better because Carlos knows his instrument better and the electronic mix seems smoother this time around.

The synthesizer developed by Robert Moog is itself remarkable; it can reach down

JAZZ NOTE — Cannonball Adderley, Miles Davis, Sam Jones, Hank Jones, and Art Blakey are an unlikely combo — but a combo they were back in 1958 when they cut an LP called "Somethin' Else" now re-released by Blue Note. Miles was cool, Cannonball bopped and Hank Jones and Art Blakey had that thing called swing. But they brought it all together in a jazz blend that's worth hearing again — and again.

Rendleman had hoped for hearings on SIU officers

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, commented this week on published reports that he had been critical of the SIU Board of Trustees in regard to its closed sessions.

"It had been reported that recent remarks of mine implied that the board was in violation of the open meeting law, by consideration in executive session of the executive officers relationship report," Pres. Rendleman said.

"If my remarks led to such an implication, then I was guilty of giving an erroneous impression. I did not consider executive sessions to consider such a report as being in violation of the open meeting law, nor have I indicated to the board that I felt they were in violation."

"I did hope there could be an open hearing on the matter before the report was adopted. It was my intention to clearly state that the media, rather than impugning the integrity of the board, should take advantage of the remedies provided by law if they believe the board's executive sessions have been in violation of the open meeting law."

The trustees approved an executive officers relationship plan in a report adopted Jan. 19 in Carbondale.

It gives Chief of Board Staff James M. Brown, 52, of Carbondale the role of speaking for the board in interpreting its policies to Pres. Rendleman of SIUE and Pres. David R. Derge of SIUC.

South begins Salem Tourney tonight

The Warriors of Granite City High School South enter the Salem Tournament at 8:30 p.m. today to clash with the host school in first round competition.

South, now 0-12 after having dropped its latest game this weekend to East St. Louis, will attempt to better its finish last year in the Salem.

The Warriors were eliminated from competition last year by two straight losses, first by the eventual 1973 champion Paris and then at the hands of Breese Mater Dei in consolation action.

Salem lost its two contests this season at the Centralia Holiday Tournament at Arlington and Pinckneyville. Two players, 6-4 Ron Eller and 6-3 Mark Davis, head the Wildcats striking power, each averaging 15 points a game.

Mike Martinez, Tom Schooley, Keith Gehling, Ken Bertrand and Bob Hutchings will lead the Warrior effort against Salem tonight.

A victory by the local squad will pit South against the winner of today's 7 p.m. Mater Dei vs. Fairfield game at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. A win by South tomorrow would place the team against either Alton or Robinson in the championship clash at 9 p.m. Saturday.

If South should win tonight but lose tomorrow, the Warriors will play the loser of tomorrow's Alton-Robinson game at 6 p.m. Saturday for third place. A loss tonight would throw South into the consolation bracket for a 2 p.m. game with the loser of the Mater Dei-Fairfield clash and a loss there would eliminate the Warriors from the tournament.

Alton advanced to the championship semi-finals last night, downing Centralia 89-61, on including 30 points scored by Doug Valley. Alton now is 13-2, having lost this season to East St. Louis and Collinsville. The second game at 11 a.m. Saturday yesterday saw Robinson edge Effingham 71-70 to advance against Alton tomorrow. Brad Siller tallied 22 points for Robinson.

South G.A.A. celebrates 50th year tonight

Thursday at 6:15 p.m. Granite City High School South Girls' Athletic Assn. is holding its annual Mother-Daughter Banquet—the main G.A.A. event of the year.

"Memories Are Golden" will be presented as a tribute to the existence of the club for 50 years at the high school.

Pork chops, baked potatoes, corn O'Brien, gelatin and peach shortcake with topping will be served in the South cafeteria. G.A.A. plans to have 200 in attendance, so the number of tickets sold will be limited.

Toastmistress will be Mary Jackson and invocation will be presented by Jeanette Patterson. The president, Barb Matson, will give a tribute to the mothers, which will be followed by a mother's response given by Mrs. Mary Yevins.

Presentation of awards will follow.

North sophs split a pair

The "A" and "B" sophomore squads of Granite City High School North traveled to Belleville Althoff Monday where the "A" squad defeated the host school 64-40 and the "B" squad fell 80-62.

North's "A" eagles fell behind 22-23 at halftime after a 12-12 first period score. The Steelers then dominated the two final quarters, 48-44 and 65-40.

Scoring for the "A" team were Tom Schocker 21, Jim Woodward 17, Larry Schleicher 12, Rick Spurlock nine, and Chris Gaddie six.

The "B" Steelers trailed Belleville in every quarter of their game, 25-17, 46-41, 67-56 and 80-62. Tallying points for North were Brian Smith with 14, Dale Page and Jerry Barnett with 10 apiece, Jim Woodward nine, Gary Paul six, Brian Murphy, Tim Luhn and Terry Hart with four each, and Gaddie one.

The Madison High School Trojans, the only local cage squad not in tournament action this week, will host the Blue Devils of Northwest High School of Missouri at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. The Trojans have a 14-6 record after a 64-61 defeat Tuesday at Roxana.

Madison had downed Roxana 70-68 last month in the first round of the Edwardsville Holiday Tournament, but failed to put it all together from the field Tuesday, hitting only 24 field goals in 63 attempts. Roxana was 26 of 36 from the field, and 10 of 23 from the foul line to lead Madison in every quarter, 15-12, 29-24, 44-40 and the final score. Madison was 13 of 27 from the free throw line.

The Trojans pulled down 34 rebounds, 14 by Chris Stanley, and 18 of those recovered belonged to the enemy. Roxana recovered 37 rebounds in the game, 22 of its own.

Roxana gave up possession of the ball 21 times, as compared to Madison's 16, but the local squad failed to capitalize in the turnovers with ineffective shooting.

Trojans Alvin Wigfall and Jon Hensel both had an off night. Wigfall, usually effective with inside under-the-basket shots, mustered only 10 points in the game. Henke, a 20-foot shot hitter all season, earned four points after failing to find his target from outside.

Stanley led Madison's effort with 19 points. Ron Glasper had 16, Darryl Franklin eight, and Willie Shearry four.

Steve Corbin was the high point scorer for Roxana with 21 points, 13 in the final period. The Northwest squad will carry its 7-7 season record to Madison tomorrow, seeking to break a two-game losing streak.

Northwest had no letterman return but still lost only four of its games by one point, each in overtime periods. The Devils' most recent victory came two weeks ago when they steamrolled over Roosevelt, Mo., 101-59.

This is the worst mid-season record we have ever had," commented Devil Coach Lloyd Bailey, "in all my 27 years as head basketball mentor."

Northwest has two players averaging double-figure points in each game, guard Stanley Stevenson with 15 and center Lawrence Moore 12. Rounding out the cast are Gregory Kidd, Wardell Carter and Darrel Piggie.

Kahoks top seeded for cage regional Defending champion Collinsville has been given top seeding by coaches whose teams have been assigned to the Granite City High School South Class AA regional cage tournament in March.

Edwardsville is the second seeded school and will face GCHS North, which is seeded third, in semi-final action. Collinsville will draw a first round bye, and play the winner of the Roxana-South game in the other semi-final contest.

Venice advances to semi-finals at Dupou

The changes of Venice capturing its second consecutive Dupou Cage Tournament increased Tuesday with the Red Devils posting an 80-45 victory over St. Henry of Belleville, the local squad's third defeat of the Belleville team this season.

Tuesday's victory moved Venice into tonight's eight o'clock semi-final game against Wood River. The Oilers advanced in the tournament with a 75-60 defeat of the host school Tuesday. Dupou will meet St. Henry at 6 p.m. today in a consolation game.

Opening day games resulted in Belhato upsetting Valmeyer 70-58 and Columbia edging past Fox of Arnold, Mo., 56-54.

Venice posted the runaway victory against St. Henry by outshooting the enemy from the field while committing 10 fouls. The Oilers made good 39 of 66 field goal attempts and was two of three from the foul line. St. Henry scored on 20 of 47 field goals and earned points on five of seven shots from the free throw line.

The narrowest margin by which the Belleville squad ever trailed the Devils was four points as Venice jumped into an 18-12 first period lead and maintained its winning effort in the remaining quarters, 30-26, 54-35 and 80-45.

Dan Rousseau was high point player for St. Henry with 24 points. The only other Belleville double-figure scorer was Tony Ward's 17.

Venice had five cagers hit double-figure points—Ron Henry with 24, Mike Logan and Reggie Gardner with 14 apiece, and J. B. Harmon and Tony Sifton with 10 each. Jeff Corrie tallied six and James Turner two in assisting the local Devils.

Wood River will clash with Venice tonight for the second time this season. In their Jan. 15 outing, Venice dealt the Oilers a 78-49 loss.

The Oilers bounced back from a first period deficit, 12-10, Tuesday to outpoint Dupou the rest of the game, 30-19, 50-34, 112-107 and heavyweight.

North, South matmen on road this weekend

Both Granite City High School wrestling teams will be on the road this weekend.

South will meet Cahokia tomorrow at 7 p.m. and will cross the river Saturday for a 1 p.m. double-dual meet with Roxana and host school, Hazelwood.

The Steelers of North will compete at Quincy at 11 a.m. Saturday in their second tournament as a new school.

South will seek to upgrade its season record to 17-2 at Cahokia. The Warriors' two losses came two weeks ago at the hands of Belleville East, and then Pekin.

East's win over the local squad snapped South's three-year winning streak and its 18 year domination of Southern Illinois states. Since it lost to Pekin, South has won four consecutive meets against Carl Sandburg, McCluer, Alton and Collinsville.

Cahokia, last year's third place team in state finals, finished 14th in last month's Granite City Holiday Tournament, but failed to produce an individual champion or place wrestler. In the tournament, South wrestlers posted wins over Cahokia opponents in the 105, 126, 145 and 167 weight classes.

The Warriors' two opponents Saturday, Roxana had the best showing in the holiday classics with an eighth place finish. The Steelers failed to have an individual champion in the tournament but did have a third place wrestler in the 185 pound class. Roxana fell victim to South in three weight classes, 119, 145 and 167.

Hazelwood, which emerged from the South tournament 10th, had a second place wrestler at 167 pounds. Hazelwood lost six matches to the Warriors, 99, 119, 138, 145, 155 and 165.

GCHS North will compete in the eight-team Quincy mat tournament Saturday with the host school, Springfield, East St. Louis, Lincoln, McCluer, Decatur, Rock Island, Alton, East Moline and Burlington of Iowa.

The elimination rounds at Quincy will begin at 11 a.m. with the championship finals at 7:30 p.m. Seedings and team rankings are to be announced Saturday morning at Quincy.

"East Moline," remarks Steele Coach Walter Whitaker, "is always considered to be a top contender. Lincoln is another school we will have to handle with care," he added.

Lincoln took ninth place in the holiday tournament and had a wrestler place in three classes, 112, 167 and heavyweight.

The Steelers enter Saturday's tournament at Quincy with an 8-1 record, their latest victim being Riverview Gardens of Missouri in a 26-24 squeaker there Tuesday.

The North victory snapped Riverview's winning streak at 38 consecutive dual meets, not including tournaments.

Best earned 17, Don Donohoo 16, Steve Vidakovich 14, Mark Zaranonello 10, Rich Downer and Keith Zumwalt with eight apiece, and one point each scored by Joe Tandinio and Rich Caruch.

A victory by Venice tonight over Wood River would advance the Red Devils to tomorrow's 9 p.m. championship game, with Belhato.

Belhato defeated Columbia in semi-final action last night 76-56 with 27 field goals and 22 free throws. Jim Rice scored 22 points for Belhato in the contest.

Columbia will meet the loser of today's Venice-Wood River game at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow for third place.

Valmeyer earned the right to meet the winner of today's 6:30 p.m. Dupou-St. Henry game for the consolation championship at 6 p.m. tomorrow. Valmeyer defeated Fox 85-58 last night. Wayne Rohlfing scored 42 points with 24 from the foul line, for the victors.

North frosh fall at Alton

Dismiss protest

A protest filed with the Madison County Junior Basketball Conference by athletic officials of Edwardsville Junior High School, charging that Madison Junior High has used an ineligible player on its eighth grade team, has been resolved at a meeting of representatives of all participating schools within the conference.

Archie McAnahan, principal of Madison Junior High, explained at the meeting that, for years, his school has followed a policy of allowing sixth grade basketball players to play seventh grade competition, but during the past two years this policy has been phased out to comply with conference rules. The rules restrict a junior high school basketball player to only two years of participation in the conference. The player in question was in his third year of competition.

After a motion passed to establish a committee to study that particular rule of the constitution and recommend necessary changes, a vote by secret ballot resulted in members permitting the eighth grade player to remain eligible for the rest of this season.

Madison, now second in conference standings at both grade levels, would have to forfeit all conference victories if the voting had been against the player remaining eligible.

Chicago Catholic teams join Illinois title chase next fall

By ALLAN WADE

Sit back, relax and project yourself forward to March, 1975. This is the scene. A Chicago team making its first-ever appearance in any kind of Illinois state basketball tournament competition wins the regional, the sectional, the supersectional and finally grabe the big gold ring at Champaign.

Sounds sort of like a movie or television scriptwriter's dream, doesn't it? Never happen, you say? There's not a team alive and kicking who's never even played in a regional, you say? Sorry, Charlie, there are 11 teams in Chicago which have never even put one sneaker in the state tournament doorway. But they're going to do that next season.

I'm talking about the 12-team Chicago Catholic High School League, of which DeLaSalle is the only team ever to make an appearance, and that one was while it was a nonmember. The other 11 are Oak Park St. Laurence, Oak Park Fenwick, St. Rita, Mount Carmel, Hales Franciscan (the early favorite for this season's title), Mendel, Brother Rice, Leo, Loyola Academy, Gordon Tech and Weber.

After all these years of celibacy, however, the schools will become members of the Illinois High School Association in September, 1974, making them eligible for the new football playoffs and for the 1975 state basketball tournament. So why the long wait?

"We had several reasons over the years," said Francis Strocchia, Mayor Richard Daley's youth coordinator and commissioner of the league. "Our schools are small, particularly, IHSA rules say your coaches have to be full-time teachers, that you can't have light-weight basketball, all of which hurts us. In addition to that, our champion has always gone to the national Catholic high school tournament, which is also against IHSA rules."

Just as there were several reasons for the league's non-membership position, there are a number of reasons why the league has finally found an about-face.

"The rules made it very difficult for us to schedule games," Strocchia said. "IHSA member schools couldn't play us, except for the Chicago public schools because they're just affiliate members, so about all we could do was play among ourselves and play some of the public schools."

The affiliate membership in the IHSA, which allows the Chicago public schools to play the Catholic schools and still retain their eligibility for the state tournament, was applied for two years ago by the Catholic League. Strocchia said, but was denied. So a wait-and-see attitude was adopted, and last spring the league principals voted to join the IHSA as full members.

So what does all this mean to other schools in Class AA in basketball around the state? Will the Catholic League schools make a splashy debut in competition and win the whole thing, or will they be just another one of those teams who try and fail to catch the pot of gold at Champaign?

"I wouldn't want to predict an immediate championship or anything like that, but we will be competitive," Strocchia commented. "Our league has had, and continues to have, a lot of outstanding individual performers, but our basketball programs are still developing. Football has been king for a long time, but the basketball coaches are gaining more and more influence."

Strocchia said he didn't know what would have happened in past years had the Catholic League been eligible for the tournament, but last year, for the first time in 30 years, the Chicago Public League champion (eventual state title) Hirsch refused to play the Catholic champion after the season ended.

And other things are busily happening around the Catholic League as the league makes plans for its IHSA debut. One of the biggest is the annual 32-team Mayor Daley Christmas Holiday Tournament, which next year Strocchia hopes will include eight teams from other parts of the state in addition to Chicago schools.

"It's the biggest high school tournament in the country, and we want to have a good representation of schools from around the state," Strocchia said. "The games will be televised here and they're all day games, so the kids will have time to enjoy the social events we have planned and also to see the sights. We are also planning a 16-team tournament next Thanksgiving for Catholic schools around the state. Any team which wants to enter either tournament should get in touch with me."

Strocchia is possessed of an intense pride in Catholic League competition, and perhaps he should be, since it pays his salary, but he's easily angered by any suggestion that the Catholic League's non-membership in the IHSA has "cheated" any of the players who have missed out on state tournament competition.

"We haven't cheated the kids at all, especially not in football and basketball," he said. "The champion of our league knows it has won a great honor, but we now have a bigger goal in view — state championships. We'll be patient, though, and wait to see what happens. You don't know if you've never been there before."

Tigers win 2

Warrior Dave Rhodes scored a combined total of 35 points in two games Monday at Edwardsville but the Tigers downed GCHS South 85-60 in the freshman game and 82-54 in the sophomore contest. Keith Champine scored the high point in the freshman game with 23 points, Rhodes added 22 in that game. Rhodes also competed in the sophomore clash and tallied 13 points.

Future Cougar matmen busy

Although the SIUE wrestling team is in the midst of probably its finest season ever, one of Coach Larry Kristoff's primary concerns is to ensure that such wrestling prowess is maintained in the future.

One way of preparing for the future is through the Cougar junior varsity, where inexperienced wrestlers first compete on the collegiate level of the sport.

"The junior varsity is an excellent way for a freshman or a sophomore to gain valuable experience under actual match conditions," Kristoff explained this week. "Otherwise, a youngster who doesn't earn a starting berth on the varsity would languish on the bench."

This season, Kristoff's junior varsity has compiled a 3-2 dual meet record, mostly against junior college opponents. In the last encounter, a double-dual match held Jan. 16 at Meramec Community College, the Cougars dropped a close 23-20 decision to the host Warriors. But the SIUE JV came back to blast Florissant Valley Community College, 42-3.

"Although we like to win, that's not our most important objective in junior varsity matches," Kristoff commented. "First and foremost, we want to give those who aren't regulars on the varsity plenty of experience."

One SIUE matman who had plenty of experience in the 190-pound weight class, Washington competed in the heavyweight division, winning one match and losing another despite giving away as much as 60 pounds to his opponents. In a 190-pound exhibition, Washington gained a one-point escape with just four seconds to go to defeat his opponent from Meramec, 4-1.

Junior varsity wrestling is beneficial in a number of ways, Kristoff believes. "First, it helps keep up a young lad's morale as well as sharing his weight class with the team because an experienced bench provides added depth to go along with the starters. Most importantly, junior varsity molds the SIUE wrestling teams of the near future."

The varsity rebounded from its first dual meet loss of the season to demolish Northeast Missouri State U. 38-6 Jan. 19. Now 8-1, the Cougar matmen will return to action Saturday at 1 p.m. in Martin, Tenn., against the U. of Tennessee-Chattanooga and the U. of Tennessee-Martin.

GC to meet Wood River on ice

Tomorrow at 11:45 p.m. the Granite City McClair Ice Hockey Association squad will clash with Wood River at the Wilson Park Ice Rink immediately following the 10:30 p.m. Belleville-Collinsville game. Alton will carry its 16-0 record against Assumption at 1:10 a.m. Saturday.

Alton maintained its undefeated status by scoring late in the final period to defeat Granite City here during the weekend.

Gitcho in Russia on wrestling tour

James Peckham, head coach for the United States Cultural Exchange Wrestling team and athletic director at Emerson College at Boston, Mass., has been named to head a team of 10 Olympic and champion wrestlers representing the United States on a three-week tour of Russia, starting Saturday.

They will compete in the World Invitational Championship at Tallin, followed by dual meets at Moscow, Kiev, Minsk and other Russian cities. Among those on the team is Granite City's Jan Gitcho, who began his wrestling career under Coach William Schmitt at Granite City High School, and continued his career under Larry Kristoff at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Rounding out the team are Wayne Holmes of Ohio, Sergio Gonzales and Larry Morgan of California, Lloyd Keaser of Virginia, Joe Wells of Iowa, Jon Peterson and Russ Hellickerson of Wisconsin, Buck Dedrick of California and Mike McCready of Pennsylvania.

The group will compete in Russia as part of a sports exchange program developed by the Amateur Athletic Union.

$5,000 NATIONAL STEEL CORP. FELLOWSHIP being presented by Nicholas P. Veeder, left, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Granite City Steel, to Gary Hudburgh, a graduate student in metallurgical engineering at the University of Missouri-Rolla.

The award will support Hudburgh's general studies and research on the removal of undesirable alkali from certain types of iron ore, a basic raw ingredient in steelmaking. Largest steelmaker in the St. Louis metropolitan area, Granite City Steel is a division of National Steel and employs 45 Rolla graduates.

Veeder commented that the grant, the first awarded under the National Steel Fellowship program to the U. of Missouri-Rolla, "has direct applications in making Missouri ores more useful for the steel industry."

Hudburgh, a Colorado School of Mines graduate, is studying use of froth flotation to remove feldspar. Iron ore, utilized in production of molten pig iron, is later refined to produce steel; alkali-contaminated feldspar presents quality control problems.

Allergists report progress

By IRWIN J. POLK MD

Allergists who treat asthma, hay-fever, hives, eczema and a score of other less common diseases report good progress. Great strides have been made especially in finding out about the actual cellular chemistry of the allergic diseases.

Allergy symptoms are known to be mediated by histamine and other chemicals. It has been found that these medicines work at sites on the individual cells called beta-receptors. These receptors in turn activate an enzyme called adenylyl-cyclase. This in turn causes an increase with in the cell of a substance called CAMP (cyclic 3,5-adenosine monophosphate). As the CAMP in the cell goes up, the histamine goes down. With the discovery of the relationship of CAMP to allergies, it has now become possible to understand the effects of each medicine on the chemistry of cells as well as on the patients' symptoms.

But as yet little is known of the exact effect on the body of the newest available medicine for the treatment of asthma. That medicine, cromolyn sodium, was released for the U.S. last year for the first time. The drug, used by inhalation, is successful in preventing both allergic and exercise-induced asthma. It works by inhibiting the release of mediator substances like histamine, but the exact details are not yet clear.

Several allergists have investigated exercise-induced asthma, a condition which resembles allergic asthma. It is brought on by exercise, either mild or strenuous, depending on the condition of the patient. Exercise-asthma can occur in allergic or non-allergic patients and can be prevented by many of the same medicines used to treat allergic diseases.

A new allergic disease was recently described. It is called vibratory angioedema. Symptoms include swelling of the eyes and lips, hives, flushing and headaches. They begin from minutes to hours after exposure to vibrations, massage and sometimes even after exercise. Patients have developed swellings, hives and headaches after using vibrators, massage machines, or even after a jarring ride in a shaky vehicle.

Allergies also have been reported as causing growth delay in children. In earlier years, asthma was the common allergic illness which resulted in delaying growth of children. Chronic nose, throat, sinus and ear infections, which are common in allergic children, were also reported to be associated with growth delay. So allergic children with asthma and those with chronic upper respiratory diseases may grow more slowly than normal, non-allergic children. Allergies have also been implicated in inner ear diseases, causing hearing loss and disturbances in the balance mechanisms.

Thermography, a method of recording skin temperature, has advanced as a tool for the allergists. Since allergy skin-tests cause increase in circulation at the test sites, thermography was used to read the tests. Provocative testing for allergies has become more widely used. In this technique, measurement is made of the passage of air through either the nose or the chest. Then the patient is challenged by exposure to a suspected cause of allergy symptoms. If a second measurement shows a decrease in the flow of air, the patient is said to have a positive provocative test to the substance tested.

Buckwheat, a common food in the family of such weeds as yellow dock and sheep sorrel, is an especially powerful allergen. Among the metals, titanium, often used in bone surgery for pins and plates, has been reported as causing allergies, possibly because it contains nickel. Iron was reported to cause a contact rash.

Retail sales in state up 45% in five years

Preliminary data from the 1972 Census of Retail Trade show that sales of $9,482 retail trade establishments with one or more employees totaled $25,663,000,000, an increase of 45 per cent over sales reported in 1967 when the last previous census was taken.

The 1972 retail data for Illinois was reported this month by the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

The preliminary statistics cover only information collected from establishments with payroll—those that represent approximately two-thirds of the retail businesses in the United States but which account for about 96 per cent of total retail sales in Illinois.

Some facts contained in the report are:

- (1) Measured in dollar value of sales, grocery stores were the most important kind of business, with 1972 sales of $4,876,000,000, followed by new car dealers, $4,246,000,000, and department stores, $3,045,000,000. These three kinds of business accounted for 47 per cent of the total retail sales for establishments with payroll.
- (2) Payroll for 1972 amounted to $3,181,000 up 38 per cent from 1967.
- (3) Payroll as a percentage of total sales was 12 per cent in 1972.

(4) There were 637,539 paid employees (full and part time) engaged in retail business as of mid-March 1972.

(5) The ratio of employees to sales in 1972 was one employee for every $40,247 in sales.

(6) Among the kinds of business represented, the percentage changes in sales from 1967 to 1972 range from an increase of 70 per cent for hardware stores to an increase of 32 per cent from drug stores.

The final report will show data for 10 major kind-of-business groups for all counties and incorporated cities of 2,500 inhabitants or more in the state.

More detailed kind-of-business information will be shown for major areas—the state, Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, counties with 500 establishments or more, and cities with 500 establishments or more. The amount of detail by kinds of business will vary according to the number of establishments in the area.

Population growth causes services to expand but county avoiding borrowing

By NELSON HAGNAUER
Vice-Chairman, East-West Gateway Coordination Council
Chairman, Madison County Board

Supervisor, Granite City Township
Looking back over 1973, Madison County experienced some financial limitations in revenue.

It was hoped that the legislature would offer some relief in this regard. However, it was forthcoming only on a small scale. But Madison County was able to end the year "in the black."

A review and forecast for the year of 1974 offers more hope that the legislature will give financial relief to all the local governments.

NELSON HAGNAUER

Even if the legislature does not act, Madison County can survive the financial restraints placed on it, and offer the citizens and taxpayers the best of services as it always has.

The growth rate in the county continues at an accelerated pace and the needs of the citizens grow accordingly. These needs will be met.

Our budgets have grown at a pace to keep up with these services. This coming year we will show an increase of $1,600,000 over last year.

Last year's tax rate was 45 cents; this coming year, the rate will be approximately 47 cents.

Revenue sharing has helped to absorb a part of the increase. As in the past, Madison County government has made a great contribution to the economy in the county. We had a payroll of $4,400,000 last year, and almost the entire amount was spent in the county.

In the coming year, we plan to increase this payroll by 6 percent to 9 percent, the County Board having ratified raises for employees at its January board meeting.

A major part of the other expenditures for goods and services was spent in the county also, amounting to well over $4,000,000.

To sum up, Madison County, although faced with financial restraints, will continue to be a major booster to the economy. The prospects for the coming year look bright, so that we will once again end in the black.

Burglar pays boys to help him load loot

It cost a very brave burglar $15 to loot the apartment of Linda Warren, 4407 Kirkpatrick Homes, at 10:55 a.m. Tuesday. Three boys told police a man offered them $5 each to help him move a television set into a rented trailer behind his car. The trailer already was loaded with furniture and other items, the said.

After they helped load the television, the man paid them and left. Later it was discovered that in addition to the television, taken from the apartment were a stereo, four diamond rings and a quantity of meat from a freezer.

The glass in the front door was broken and the door unlocked to gain entry. They described the man as in his late 20s, about 6 feet tall and weighing about 180 pounds.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at a Mount Olive, Ill. funeral home for Mrs. Cora E. Hood (Malone), 78, who was pronounced dead on arrival at 3:25 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She was taken to the hospital after becoming ill at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Leon Altrip, 4333 Redwood Lane, with whom she was living.

She was born in East St. Louis and lived most of her life in Mount Olive before moving here last October.

Mrs. Hood was preceded in death by her husband, Edward Hood, in 1960. Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Leon (Martha) Altrip, Granite City, Mrs. Edna Knisley of Alabama, and Mrs. Fern Monteleone of California; four sons, Fred, Ronald and Charles, all of Mount Olive, and James of Nevada; 24 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

New sewer break in Venice

The 15th sewer break in Venice has occurred in an alley between Douglas and Calhoun streets, 80 feet east of Weaver Street in North Venice, and may have developed too late to get flood disaster financial assistance, the Venice City Council was told Tuesday night.

Benjamin Honorable, Civil Defense director, reported that he received a letter from Robert S. Ritz Jr., state coordinating officer in the Springfield Office of Civil Defense and Office of Emergency Preparedness to this effect. The letter said:

"We regret we are unable to assist you in regard to this break, as on Oct. 25, 1973, the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration issued a policy statement stating that supplements that cover items of work not previously requested must be submitted within 90 days of the presidential declaration. Therefore, no supplements would be accepted by their office after Nov. 20, 1973."

Honorable said that there is the possibility of an appeal. He said that a request by the city for a $70,000 advance in funds was sent Jan. 21 to Ritz.

To date the city has received $55,000 in flood aid funds. The estimated cost of sewer repairs before the latest one was discovered has been set at $275,287. A total of $115,826 has been expended to date on sewer repairs.

Honorable reported that work on sewer repairs is continuing, but the overall financial picture is not good as expenditures will be higher than anticipated and there are indications that there will be more high water and flooding.

2 hurt on Nameoiki

Two persons were injured in a three-car, chain-reaction collision on Nameoiki Road at 27th Street at 4:55 p.m. Tuesday.

The autos of Nancy Jo Sabo, 34, of 21 Wilson Park Drive, and Paul Riley, 58, of St. Louis, were stopped to make a left turn from Nameoiki Road when the auto of James Almeter Jr., Alton, reportedly struck the rear of Riley's car, pushing it into the Sabo car.

Bond attorney paid $26,250

Payment of $26,250 to the Calvo, Matyka and Hill Law firm of Granite City for services involved in the sale of the city's $4.1 million bond issue to finance the new secondary sewage treatment plant was authorized by the City Council Monday night.

But the council, acting on recommendation of Alderman Gerald Parmley, chairman of the council's finance committee, held up payment of $2,250 of the total bill pending a legal opinion as to its propriety by City Attorney George Filcoff.

The bill was received for services performed by Attorney Gerald Parmley, chairman of the council's finance committee, held up payment of $2,250 of the total bill pending a legal opinion as to its propriety by City Attorney George Filcoff.

The city was billed for a total of $28,500, but Parmley told council members this included $26,250 for services as bond attorneys, plus an additional $2,250 for preparation of a sales brochure at the time bids for the bond sale were called.

Parmley noted that a question had arisen as to whether or not the work involved in preparation of the brochure would be covered by the original contract retaining the bond attorney at a fee of $26,250. On a motion by Parmley, the council approved the $26,250 bill under the contract, but segregated the $2,250 from the bill list to give Filcoff an opportunity to study the contract with the bonding attorneys.

The council also concurred in a report by Chief of Police Ronald Veizer that there is no apparent need for additional school crossing protection at Niedringhaus School. The Niedringhaus PTA two weeks earlier asked the council to provide a crossing guard and the matter was referred to Chief Veizer for investigation.

Veizer told the aldermen that he had viewed activities at the school at various times of the day, found traffic flow safely handled at all intersections, and said that "the only apparent problem there is the parents themselves who pick up their children and then hurry away with little regard for other children."

In other action the council approved an additional $200 expense fund for Veizer who is to attend the three-day convention of the Illinois Police Chiefs Convention in St. Louis next weekend. Veizer is to be installed as president of the organization Monday.

The additional money was provided on a motion by Alderman Walter Nann who said that he believed an expense fund of $150 awarded Chief Veizer by the council on Jan. 2 was insufficient.

Veizer, when asked by other council members, replied that "I don't need that much," but Nann pressed for a roll call vote on his motion. The motion carried 9 to 4.

The council also heard a brief discussion on efforts to locate a site for the proposed new Nameoiki fire station. A site at Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road was rejected after residents of the neighborhood objected to location of the fire house at that site. No new site has yet been chosen.

The council scheduled its next meeting for Tuesday night, so that the aldermen may attend the installation of Chief Veizer at the police chief's meeting Monday night.

New study of ways to impart 'new look' to downtown area

The Downtown Revitalization Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce met with Dr. Robert Koepke, associate professor, Social Sciences Division, SIUE, and Dr. Don Strohmeier at the local YMCA Monday to discuss revitalization of the downtown business area.

Dr. Koepke told the committee that the downtown area should be a continuing, viable business center in addition to not instead of surrounding shopping centers. He urged continued emphasis on meeting "Modern marketing standards."

Dr. Strohmeier, who is in charge of architecture and planning, went over details of other business districts he has "reconditioned."

He discussed parking problems and solutions and offered his services and the services of a graduate architectural class to study "what can be done at a minimum cost to merchants and to the city to bring a new look to Downtown."

The graduate class will start a preliminary study, reimbursed for their out-of-pocket expenses while working.

A committee spokesman said it is enthusiastic and is looking forward to seeing the results of the effort, which should be completed in early March.

Griggs and Civil Defense Director Benjamin Honorable. Fourth Ward Alderman Oscar King instructed Briggs to check out an unsafe condition on Weaver Street next to Douglas Street. King said that if the people did not want to cooperate in cleaning up the condition, the council would need to take legal action.

The council approved an application of Malinkrodt Chemical Works to form a 16-inch force main across the St. Louis side of McKinley bridge. The company is to pay the city $200 per year for the easement.

Overtime pay for work done by members of the city street department was approved by the council. It has been a practice to give time off to compensate for extra work. City Attorney Harry Hartman suggested the council look into needed repairs on McKinley bridge. He said that a delay could cause serious problems. Mayor Patterson asked the attorney to set up a meeting as soon as possible with the bridge engineers to see what needs to be done.

Also approved was a decision to apply to the Illinois Public Health Department for authorization to conduct a vision and hearing screening program. The state sponsored program reimburses the district for tests of eligible children.

Venice schools will be closed Friday, Superintendent Pier said, to permit a workshop program in which Venice faculty members will visit other quality-city area schools and inspect various programs.

He obtained the rolls of self-adhering reflective tape Wednesday from Roland C. Raer Jr., assistant vice-president of administration for Flex-O-Lite. Raer distributes scraps and roll ends from the larger sheets of the material made by the company.

The larger rolls of the material are used for signs, particularly street signs. The company also manufactures the reflective material mixed with some paints for painting lines on roads and streets.

Turner was charged with fleeing or attempting to elude police, reckless driving, going the wrong way on a one-way street, having no driver's license and destruction of city property.

Turner allegedly was the driver of a car which police chased several blocks Sunday. The car was abandoned at 18th and State streets, but was left in the drive gear and struck a stop sign. The driver escaped but a passenger in his car was captured at the scene.

G police chief to head state chiefs association

By VALERIE EYENDEIN
Press-Record Staff Writer

An experienced police officer responsible for introducing many innovative programs into his department will be installed Monday night as president of Illinois' top law enforcement officers' organization.

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer of Granite City will head the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police in 1974 as state president.

He will be installed in ceremonies at 7 p.m. last night at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn, St. Louis, to climax a three-day midwinter conference. It is the first time the professional police chiefs' group has convened in proximity to downstate Illinois.

Principal speaker at Monday's dinner will be Illinois Lt. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan, a former practicing attorney, whose governmental experience includes legislation, public health and safety, licensing contracts, personnel administration and public use of recreational facilities.

Hartigan is a former chief legal counsel for the Chicago Park District and attorney for the Chicago Board of Health.

Many local elected officials and representatives of area business firms are expected to attend the dinner.

Heading the Granite City delegation will be Mayor Paul Schuler, who will officially welcome the conference delegates at Monday morning's session.

Missouri Gov. Christopher "Kit" Bond and St. Louis Mayor J. P. Feltner are among the invited guests.

The banquet will be followed with entertainment by a professional troupe of country-western artists.

The 1974 winter convention will be hosted by the Southern Illinois Police Chiefs Association. About 560 persons are anticipated at the conference which starts Saturday at Stouffer's.

The Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police has an active membership roster of 621, which includes police chiefs, assistant chiefs, state police officials and division commanders.

The local police chief has been active in the organization since 1967. He has served as sergeant-at-arms, and first, second and third vice-president prior to his election as president in July.

Chief Veizer joined the Granite City Police Department on May 3, 1964, after spending 3½ years in the U.S. Navy and working briefly for American Bakeries, Taste of Bread Division, St. Louis.

During the Korean War, he served on board an APA troop carrier in Southeast Asia, later transferring to the USS Baltimore, a heavy cruiser. He was on the Baltimore when the ship acted as the review vessel for the U.S. Sixth Fleet at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II in London.

Since starting his law enforcement career as a patrolman, Chief Veizer received assignment to the detective division in 1955 and was promoted to sergeant in 1965. He has held the position as police chief since 1967, under appointment by Mayor Schuler and former Mayor Donald Partney.

The Granite City officer has been awarded nine commendations during his police career. He has received training in a variety of police work, including such areas as juveniles, fingerprinting, small arms, identification, death investigation, advanced

Under his leadership, a flourishing police community relations program was initiated bringing to the public "Officer Friendly," appeared to grade school youngsters, "Lady Beware," "Frauds Against the Elderly," "Driving and Drinking," "Consumer Scammers," "Operation ID" and "Hands Don't Steal."

A strong advocate of crime prevention, Chief Veizer is planning to augment the department's current services with a special two-man unit trained at the University of Louisville in crime prevention techniques.

The program, will be funded by the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission and, hopefully, will start in late spring, he said.

Chief Veizer also is continuing to press for construction of a new, modern police facility in Granite City, adequately equipped and manned in order to update and improve police services in general.

"We are badly in need of a new facility as our present quarters in the City Hall basement are very cramped," he said.

Her husband, currently chairman of the local Cahokia Mound Council Trust committee, and immediate past president of the local Scout council, was awarded the Silver Beaver by the local council in February 1973.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., Jan. 24, 1974 Page 11 Should report gas spills

Gasoline spills which leak into the Granite City sewers should be reported to the Granite City Fire Department immediately, Don Parente, fire chief, cautioned Granite City residents and businessmen this week.

Parente said a spill at a service station at 20th and Benton streets Friday allowed several hundred gallons to escape into the sewers in the morning. The fire department was not alerted until 8:10 p.m. Friday.

By then several residents were complaining of strong gasoline fumes in their basements. Smoke ejectors had to be used at two houses to remove the fumes.

Parente said relatively minor gasoline spills of five gallons or more should be reported to the fire department can wash away the gasoline before a fire can start.

He further cautioned against carrying gasoline in cans in cars or car trunks. The cans can explode in an accident, he explained.

Sound basis for residential acquisitions here during '74

By ALBERT H. FROEMLING
President,
Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association

The events of this past year have had a tremendous impact on the history of this nation—and their effect on virtually every phase of our lives was truly traumatic.

Despite reference to the foregoing events, the economic picture for the year was relatively strong. Inflation, even with certain restraints, increased at a rate higher than was hoped for.

Madison County Federal enjoyed a good year of growth—both in asset size as well as earnings.

Even though the nation was plunged into a "money crunch" by the news in July 1973, allowing for higher rates on savings and the resulting disinflation of funds, no worthy loan applications was turned down for lack of mortgage funds.

Looking ahead to the year 1974, we do not see an entirely bleak picture. The first half of the year will probably display little or no growth; however, it appears that the last half of the year will show a pick up in economic activity.

Perhaps "cautious optimism" is the best way to describe our outlook at Madison County Federal.

Money supplies should be more plentiful than during the last half of 1973. Consequently, money for mortgage loans should be available, even though there is no reason to believe that the cost of money will be appreciably cheaper.

Similarly, cost of building is steadily rising. The urge on the part of the prospective home buyer to wait for less costly housing is, therefore, unfounded.

This group of home buying Americans, aged 25 to 34, is constantly increasing and should prove to be a steady market for mortgage funds.

There may be some reluctance to buy because of the uncertainty of current events. But with a commodity as basic as shelter, there is the

Energy supply will affect outlook but economic growth likely in '74

Any attempt to forecast conditions for 1974 necessarily must be based on the energy outlook.

Two factors will determine the pace of our economy: the duration of the Arab oil embargo and what Washington does about dividing the energy shortage between industry and the public.

The vacillation of government on this question has caused the unrest and almost panic of the public that is so evident.

Contributing to the problem has been the controls placed on the energy-producing companies which have created artificially low prices on fuel in the past; this in turn has resulted in a prodigal use of energy in the United States.

E. A. KARANDIEFF

Nowhere in the world has energy been so cheap in relation to other products and services. An interesting question would be what would happen if all controls were removed and energy prices were determined by supply and demand.

Gross National Product is expected to decline during the first quarter of 1974, level out during the second quarter, and increase slowly and moderately during the last half of 1974.

The growth in 1974 could well be in an area of 2 per cent. This compares with about 6 per cent in 1973.

Unemployment will be in the area of 6 per cent of the work force unless an answer is found for the energy crisis.

With today's circumstances, any projection made now is extremely hazardous.

Consumer spending for automobiles has already dropped sharply.

There is no way for automobile sales to do anything but be considerably lower in 1974 with a resultant loss of many jobs. Small cars cannot be produced rapidly enough to pick up the slack lost.

Sales of furniture and appliances will not equal 1973, but the drop will be less drastic than with cars.

Consumer credit needs will necessarily be lower than in past years.

Homebuilding will be sharply lower because of higher costs of materials as well as loans.

Business capital investment is expected to be higher than 1973, a really bright spot in the economy. Pollution controls and a long-term need for expanded production facilities are the reason.

Government spending should increase, having been sharply curtailed in 1973. The cost of wages alone for the new volunteer army is tremendous—plus the need of replacing arms shipped to Israel.

The balance of trade with other nations is heartening, showing surpluses in recent quarters which have long been missed. This has resulted in a stronger dollar in foreign markets.

Granite City has grown and prospered in 1973.

Nineteen seventy-four should be another good year for us, even with all the clouds on the horizon.

We have several industries considering plants in our area. With all of our assets, we are sure to prosper and grow. Bank services have enjoyed one of the best years ever.

"We renew our pledge to help make the Tri-Cities a better place to live and work."

overriding need to purchase homes regardless of higher cost.

Rentals, similarly, are increasing in cost, thereby making the cost of ownership appealing, even at higher cost. Earnings are likely to feel the effect of the higher rate certificates which were issued since the middle of 1973. Other financial operation also have advanced. Profits, therefore, are likely to be proportionately lower.

The big question in everyone's mind is whether 1974 will find us in a recession. There is some divergence of opinion among economists with regard to this question.

Inflation, shortage of vital materials, the energy crises, credibility gaps and other problems give rise to the theory that recession is inevitable. However, the way in which we as individuals regard these problems—and deal with them—will very likely decide the course of our 1974 economic history.

Nationally, we will probably be faced with new challenges. The energy crisis, for one, affects many facets of our lives. However, as we review our history of the past and the challenges that arose and were overcome, we dare not lose sight of America's great

LOST IN THE FOG here while it was traveling north on Courtenay Boulevard, this auto failed to stop where the streets ends at Route 203. Continuing across the highway, which is being widened, the car became mired in mud. Its license is issued to Wilson Andrews, 3306 Wabash Ave. (Press-Record Photo)

Special registration scheduled on weekend

Special registration centers for newly qualified voters will be conducted by the office of County Clerk Eulalia Holt at six locations in the Quad-City area during the weekend.

The centers will be operated by deputies from Miss Holt's office who also will accept changes in the records of currently registered voters who need to report changes of name or address.

Registration periods scheduled this weekend include One at Cohen's Foods, 2301 Illinois Avenue, noon to 5 p.m. Friday, and another at the A&P Store, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, noon to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Another will be conducted Friday at the First National Bank in Madison from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and one is scheduled Saturday at Viviano's Tom Boy Market, Gaslight Plaza, from noon to 7 p.m.

A registration center will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at Bakes Hardware on Collinsville Road in State Park Place. Another is scheduled Friday at the Tri-City Grocery, 400 Broadway, Venice, from noon to 7 p.m.

Food stamp benefits reduced

Preliminary reports indicate that monthly food stamp benefits were reduced or terminated for 2,398 Illinois households during fiscal year 1973 as a result of work registration and employment requirements of the Federal Food Stamp Program.

According to Dennis M. Doyle, regional administrator of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service in Chicago, this resulted in savings of more than $142,000.

Under a 1971 amendment of the Food Stamp Act of 1964, all able-bodied members of a participating household aged 18-65 (with certain exceptions) must register for and accept suitable employment.

Acceptance of employment resulted in reduced benefits for 229 households and termination of benefits for 1,194 households for savings of more than $84,600.

Failure to comply with the work registration requirement resulted in the removal of 975 households from rolls for savings of more than $57,600.

Savings reflect the value of bonus coupons which would have been issued Food Stamp Program participants had their benefits not been reduced or terminated. The bonus value of coupons represents USDA's contribution to the program.

Wm. Hoelscher in Oregon state post

William F. Hoelscher, former manager of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities who with his family moved from Granite City to Portland, Ore., to accept a position with the Timber Operators Council in May, 1972, has been appointed an assistant attorney general of Oregon, according to word received here this week.

Hoelscher was admitted to the Oregon Bar last September. In his new position, Hoelscher is the state's only labor law attorney for all state agencies and institutions and is responsible for application of Oregon's new Public Employee Bargaining Act and other labor laws.

Hoelscher and his wife, Mrs. Milli Hoelscher, live with their children, Hans and Gretchen, at 11660 S.W. Terra Linda, Beaver, Ore., 97005. Mrs. Hoelscher is working as a teacher in dance and drama at Lake Oswego High School, and as choreographer for the school productions and for the Lake Oswego Community Theatre.

PASSENGER, 7, HURT
A Yellow Cab Co. taxicab, driven by George Hardester, 4801 Kirkpatrick Homes, and the auto of James Robins, 2408 Terminal Ave., were involved in an accident at Niedringhaus Avenue and 22nd Street at 4:45 p.m. Sunday. Kerry Feller, 7, of 1700 Delmar Ave., a passenger in the taxi, suffered a minor injury in the accident.

Thompson starts Marine training

Richard Wayne Thompson has enlisted for three years in the U. S. Marine Corps. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thompson, 3033 Sinclair Ave., and a 1973 graduate of Granite City High School.
According to the local marine recruiter, Staff Sergeant Lyman R. Greenlee, Private Thompson will receive 11 weeks of recruit training at San Diego, Calif., including individual combat training at Camp Pendleton, Calif.
The Marine training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-16 rifle and the .45 caliber pistol are equally stressed, the recruiter said.
After completing basic training, Pvt. Thompson will return home for a 10 to 20-day leave before reporting to one of the many schools available to qualified Marines.

Child's losing money can be a learning experience

By CATHERINE H. MAUCK
 Madison County Home Economics Adviser

It's difficult to know what to do when your children occasionally lose or misplace money.

You might replace it if the lost money was intended for lunch or some other essential. But if it was for personal spending, have your child wait until he can accumulate more money.

Although refusing the pleas of your unhappy child won't be easy, by not reimbursing him you will help him learn what losing money means—the money is gone and there won't be any more until "payday."

You can sympathize with him, but explain that if you lost your money, the family would have to do without many things. If your child loses money often, he needs help to overcome his carelessness. You can encourage him to carry only a part of his money—as much as he plans to use.

Together, you can find a regular place for him to keep his money and a better way to carry it.

It's unwise to take away the child's allowance just because he has trouble hanging onto it. He can't learn to take care of money if he's given an opportunity to carry it.

Other ways to handle money experiences with your child are discussed in the University of Illinois publication, "What You Need to Know About Money and Your Child." You can get a free copy of Circular 1043 from your local Extension office, Box 68, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville, telephone 656-4682.

Advantages to using words when talking to children:
 -Children feel more important when spoken to as equals.
 -By using normal language, parents help the child to develop his vocabulary. Words that are not understood can be explained immediately.

Energy film available

A 20-minute, full-color motion picture film depicting the critical need for energy conservation in business and industry has been released for private showing by the Office of Energy Programs, U. S. Department of Commerce, according to Donald R. 62-427, director of the St. Louis District Office.

Originally produced for use at energy conferences with business leaders, the film provides a concise summary of the world events which led to the present energy shortages, and offers practical management approaches to dealing with them.

Entitled "Energy Management: The Vital Difference," the film was developed out of experiences of business and industry throughout the country in solving energy supply problems. It stresses the importance of a basic commitment to energy conservation by top management and the need for the provision of managerial and technical resources to do the job.

By highlighting recent case histories taken from the private sector, the film traces the implementation of the Energy Management concept through four steps: organization of management resources, conducting an energy audit, setting tough and measurable goals, and launching an actual energy conservation campaign within the company and throughout the community.

By present-day technology and down-to-earth solutions involving little or no investment are emphasized along with more sophisticated measures which large and small industries and commercial operations can employ to achieve more efficient energy utilization in their operations.

The 16mm sound film may be borrowed from the U. S. Department of Commerce, 1520 Market St., St. Louis, Mo. 63103, telephone 622-4247.

Two brochures, "How to Start an Energy Management Program" and "39 Money-Saving Ways to Conserve Energy in Your Business," each suited for distribution at showings of the film, are also available.

Minerva Club marks birthday event

The annual birthday event of the Minerva Woman's Club was held last week at a party in the home of Mrs. Charles Kohl, 2340 Gary Ave.

Members and guests arrived in costumes depicting the dress of 10-year-old children attending a birthday party. They were greeted by the hostesses, Mrs. William Hodge, both of whom were attired in white pinafore frocks and matching hair ribbons.

A birthday gift exchange was directed by Mrs. Clem Rehagen and a special gift was awarded to Mrs. Louis Brusatti for her costume of a freckle face 10-year-old boy.

Guests were served dinner at tables illuminated by candlelight and appointed with gaily colored balloons and candy suckers.

Mrs. Earl Benoit presided at the punch bowl during the social hour. The blessing was offered by Mrs. Alan Skirball.

After dinner, a special initiation ceremony was directed by Mrs. John Phillips for Mrs. Paul Halbert and Mrs. Leo Manogian, who were welcomed as new members.

Mrs. Helen Peterson, president, conducted a brief business session. She announced that due to cancellation of the club's Christmas party, caused by inclement weather, holiday gifts and favors had been distributed by Mrs. Frank Kraus and Mrs. Billy Terrell.

The Feb. 7 business meeting was scheduled at the home of Mrs. Charles Weiss, 2884 Lynch Ave., and Mrs. Halbert presented the "mystery" prize.

Also at the party were Mesdames Alex Tarporff, Harold Meyer, Kenneth Rapp, Jack Sulberger and Charles Weiss.

Derer-Kula ceremony at St. Joseph Church

St. Joseph Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Dolores G. Kula, a daughter of Mrs. Mrs. Thomas A. Kula, 2443 Delmar Ave., and Valentine J. Derer, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Derer, 5506 W. Dakin Ave., Chicago.

The Rev. Henry Mack performed the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. on Jan. 19 before an altar decorated with bouquets of gold mums, white carnations and deep red roses.

Gerald Dorch and Ronald Payton, brothers-in-law of the bride, sang a medley of contemporary and traditional songs, including "Cherish," "Wedding Song," "Day By Day," "Follow Me," "Sunrise, Sunset," "If We Only Have Love," "For Baby From Bobby," "I Believe" and "Get Together."

Guitar accompaniment was provided by Ronald Payton, also the bride's brother-in-law. For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon designed with a V neckline, bell sleeves and a semi-full silhouette skirt.

She wore a cathedral length mantilla veil trimmed with Venice lace and she carried a cascade of gold carnations, phalaenopsis orchids and variegated ivy.

Mrs. Ronald A. Payton, the bride's sister, was her matron of honor. Miss Carolyn J. Votaw was the bridesmaid.

Both were full length gowns of aqua blue kint polyester fashioned with silhouette skirts, short sleeves and round necklines, accented with silver beading.

The flowers were colonial arrangements of natural wheat intermingled with natural colored baby breath, orange roses and golden yellow carnations.

John Derer, brother of the groom, served as best man and Bob Bacchi was the groomsmen. Jim Luce and Pat Johnson seated the guests.

Friends and relatives greeted the newlyweds at a reception following the ceremony at the Tri-City Post 113, American Legion Hall, 1825 State St.

Mrs. Edgar Votaw attended the guest book and Miss Donna Siebert, Mrs. Mary Arnold and Miss Rose Lawrence presided at the cake table.

Following a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will be home after Feb. 1 in Chicago.

The former Miss Kula is a 1967 graduate of Granite City High School and a 1971 graduate of Illinois State University at Normal. She is employed as a U. S. Civil Service investigator in Chicago.

Her husband was graduated from Quincy North High School and Niles College of Loyola, both in Chicago. He is a U. S. Customs inspector.

A rehearsal dinner party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Kula at their home on the evening prior to the wedding.

Trustees double expense budget

In increased expense allowances for the five trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District are included in a new tentative budget posted for public inspection by the levee board. The budget is scheduled for a public hearing on the board action in early February.

The budget, highest in levee district history, projects a $488,829 deficit in the general fund, which includes an allowance of $400 per month for the levee trustees. Last year's budget for expenses was $200 per month.

William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice, a Madison County member of the levee board, said the increase was made to cover higher expenses that are incurred by the trustees. He said he has made many trips to Springfield and incurred other expenses that he never has turned in.

Expect some fertilizer shortages

The energy crisis, possible late fertilizer deliveries and potential fertilizer shortages make well-planned fertility programs even more important for 1974.

The place to start is with recent soil test results to help decide what nutrients your soil needs.

Madison County farmers had fewer soil samples tested last year than the year before. One reason likely is that no cost-sharing assistance from the government was available to farmers for limestone and certain fertilizer applications last year.

But that in no way reduces the need for information provided by soil tests.

If the test shows that soil has adequate levels of phosphorus and potassium, one way to beat possible shortages and higher costs is to skip phosphorus and potassium applications next year.

University of Illinois research shows that skipping phosphorus and potassium applications for one year won't reduce crop yields as long as soil tests are high. If the soil test shows that your soil is deficient in a particular nutrient, start lining up supplies now.

Sampling fields for soil tests every four years is suggested.

One sample for each five acres in the field is needed. Take soil from the surface down almost to plow-depth. A cupful of soil is enough for each sample.

Routine tests are for soil acidity, available phosphorus, reserve phosphorus, and potassium.

From those tests and information about past treatments and crops to be grown, we determine how much limestone, phosphorus and potassium is needed for optimum crop yields.

When there's any kind of crisis, somebody's usually there to try to make a buck from people with problems.

That's why University of Illinois Agronomist Bob Hoelt expects a rash of quick fertilizer dealers to begin exploiting farmers who face short fertilizer supplies.

The quick salesmen are easy to spot. They often claim their product is more efficient and requires lower application rates, or they say the product makes nutrients in the soil more available.

Sometimes they say their product doesn't contain strong acids that kill soil bacteria and earthworms.

If you question quick salesmen, you'll discover they can never offer real proof of their product's value.

They'll quote a farmer you don't know, or say they don't know why it works, but quickly add that it does.

There's no substitute for unbiased research. If a salesman can't produce research data supporting his sales pitch, your best bet is to ask him to come back when he can support his claims.

When you buy fertilizer, you're really buying pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. You should base cost comparisons on the cost of those nutrients.

If you need information on fertilizer materials, contact your legitimate fertilizer dealer or county Extension adviser.

A two-day school for commercial vegetable growers and others interested will be held Jan. 30 and 31, starting with registration at 9 a.m. each day at the Round-table Restaurant, Route 157.

Specialists will give the latest information on vegetable production, marketing and management.

Women are especially invited to the Jan. 31 sessions, which will include several topics of interest to them.

Frank Mankiewicz will speak

Frank Mankiewicz, campaign manager for Sen. George McGovern in the 1972 presidential election, will speak at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at 8 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28, in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

The speech by Mankiewicz will center on his recently published book, entitled "Perfectly Clear: Nixon from Whittier to Watergate." About the "new" politics, Mankiewicz says, "the appeal to the electorate . . . of John Lindsay, George Wallace, Eugene McCarthy and Ronald Reagan lies not in the fact that they are Democrats or Republicans, liberals or conservatives . . . but that they appear as non- or even anti-politicians who care deeply about the way things are and want to change them."

Mankiewicz was also press secretary for the late Robert Kennedy in 1968 and is a former Peace Corps director for Latin America. He is now a syndicated columnist based in Washington, D.C.

Mankiewicz's speech is the first in a lecture series which will run through May at SIUE entitled "Issues in Journalism and Politics." The series is being sponsored by the SIUE University Center Board.

Tickets for Mankiewicz's speech are $1 for students and $1.50 for general admission, with 25-cent discount for all tickets purchased in advance. Mail orders must be prepaid and are to include an additional 10 cents for postage and handling.

HENRY VIII
On Dec. 17, 1538, Pope Paul III issued a bull excommunicating Henry VIII.

secretary, and William Ohlendorf, treasurer.

Less gasoline means less taxes to buy asphalt —but area was running out of asphalt, anyway

If you're driving less, you could also, in the future, be enjoying it less.

Less driving means less gasoline sales. Less gasoline sales means less motor fuel tax collected. Less motor fuel tax collected means less funds for road building and maintenance. It all comes about this way:

For each gallon of gasoline you purchase in Illinois, seven and one-half cents of the price is actually a motor fuel tax. This money is distributed, via a set formula, in several directions.

Some funds are taken "off the top," according to Melvin Larsen, engineer of local roads and streets in the Department of Transportation. These monies are used for such activities as administration and revenue collecting. A small percentage goes to the road fund.

The DOT receives 35 per cent of the remaining revenue collected from the tax to use for everything from paying salaries to removing snow from state highways.

Thirty-two per cent of the funds goes to Illinois municipalities, and is distributed on the basis of population. Last year, $10.70 per person per municipality was paid to each city, Larsen told the Press-Record.

Another 12 per cent is distributed among 101 counties, while Cook County receives 11 per cent. Countywise, the tax monies are distributed on the basis of the dollar collection of motor vehicle licenses.

Finally, 10 per cent is distributed among townships on the basis of miles of township highways. However, in order to be eligible to receive the revenue, a township must first levy a minimum tax.

In 1972, a total of $30.1 million was collected. Of this, $8.3 million went to cities, $70 million to counties and $30.4 million to townships.

Although the fuel crisis came to light during the last year, it doesn't appear that the amount of gasoline purchased decreased much.

For example, for the first 10 months of 1972 a total of 4,330 billion gallons were sold in Illinois as compared to 4,556 billion gallons for the same period in 1973.

During October 1972, 435 million gallons were sold, while 485 million gallons were sold during the same month of 1973.

The counties, cities and townships use the funds in any number of ways: maintaining highways, drains, snow removal, moving, salaries, improvements and new highways, to name a few.

Therefore, if the amount of money the local boards can count on from the state decreases, many of these activities may be curtailed or cut altogether.

"The department is trying to keep local people informed on what may happen," said Larsen. "They may want to adjust their appropriations accordingly."

"What we may also want to remember is that although there may be less money to spend, much of what the money is spent on may not even be available," he continued. "For example, many counties are now finding it difficult to locate asphalt, even though they may have the money to purchase it."

Study penalty for tardiness

An alternative penalty to the three-day suspension for tardiness at Madison schools is being studied by school administrators and members of the Student Advisory Committee, Madison School Superintendent John Palchick told the Board of Education in a meeting last week.

The board concurred in a recommendation by the committee that 15 minutes be allowed students to dress in gymnasium periods. Palchick reported that members of the committee are performing a needed service as users and as hall monitors, and are contributing to a good atmosphere in the schools.

Harvey Riley, George Amisich and William Gushel, members of the board's Community College committee, were introduced to board members by Palchick. Mrs. Marguerite Canole is coordinating the committee's activities.

A district-wide institute is scheduled Friday. The afternoon workshops will begin with a luncheon at which Harold E. Briggs, superintendent of the educational service region, will be guest speaker.

The teachers then will attend afternoon meetings on subjects such as: why failures, discipline, drugs, teaching goals and low achievement.

Due to price increases and short supply of milk, the board voted to serve a low-fat milk similar to that served by the Granite City and Venice districts.

STEAL CAR BATTERIES
The battery cables were cut and the batteries stolen from six cars on the rear used car lot at Granite City Chrysler Plymouth, 19th Street and Grand Avenue, it was reported at 9 a.m. Wednesday. The loss was estimated at $120.

FEAST DAYS
Pope Urban VIII reduced the number of feast days on Dec. 22, 1642.

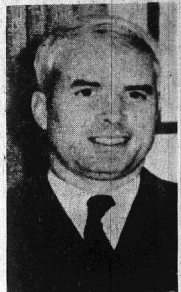

'Special' POW to speak to state police chiefs

By VALERIE EVANDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer, president-designate of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police, today announced that Navy Commander John S. McCain III, a prisoner of war in Vietnam for 2½ years, will be a guest speaker at the winter conference which starts Saturday at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn, St. Louis.

Commander McCain will be the guest speaker at a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the center ballroom at Stouffer's.

A public installation banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday at the convention center when Chief Veizer will be installed as the chiefs' association's state president. Reservations for the latter event can be made through Friday by contacting the Granite City police chief at 671-4111.

CMR. JOHN MCCAIN
Former POW

Commander McCain is a Navy flier and the son of Admiral John S. McCain II, who commanded all U.S. forces in the Pacific during the Vietnam War.

During his 5½ years as a prisoner in North Vietnam, the Navy pilot came in for "special attention" from his captors.

Now that all acknowledged prisoners are back home and a self-imposed silence is off, Commander McCain is free to answer the questions that many Americans have asked:

What was it really like? How severe were the tortures and privations? How did the captured U.S. airmen bear up under the mistreatment—and the years spent in solitary?

"How did the POWs preserve their sanity? Did visiting 'peace groups' really add to their troubles? How can this country's military men be conditioned to face such treatment in the future without crumbling?"

Of the many personal accounts coming to light about the almost unbelievably cruel treatment accorded American prisoners of war in Vietnam, none is more dramatic than that of Commander McCain, according to Navy authorities.

The pilot was on the 23rd mission on Oct. 26, 1967, flying over the heart of Hanoi in a dive at about 1,300 feet, when a Russian missile the size of telephone pole came up and blew the right wing of his Skyhawk dive bomber.

"The sky was full of missiles," the flier recalls, "and the aircraft went into an inverted, almost stright-down spin."

Commander McCain pulled the ejection handle and was knocked unconscious by the force of the ejection—his air speed was about 300 knots at the time.

Although the pilot didn't realize it right away, he had broken his right leg around the knee, the right arm in three places and his left arm.

He regained consciousness just before he landed by parachute in a lake right in the center of Hanoi, known as Western Lake. His helmet and oxygen mask had been blown off and he hit the water he sank to the bottom, a depth of between 15 and 20 feet.

Despite his injuries and about 50 pounds of equipment, he managed to kick off from the bottom three times, rising to the surface but sinking again, before he was able to get the toggle of a life-preserver between his teeth and inflated it to float to the surface.

Some North Vietnamese swam out and pulled him to the shore and immediately started stripping the pilot. A large crowd gathered and the people started hollering, screaming, cursing, spitting and kicking at him, he recalls.

"One of them slammed a rifle butt down on my shoulder and smashed it pretty badly. Another stuck a bayonet in my foot. The mob was really getting ugly," he said.

"A guy came up and started yelling at the crowd to leave me alone and a woman came over and propped me up and held a cup of tea to my lip. This quieted the crowd down a bit," the commander said.

Commander McCain's ordeal beside the lake in Hanoi was only the beginning of a 5½-year period of hell, including torture, treatment by sadistic guards, solitary confinement and innumerable interrogations.

During the captivity, his weight dropped as low as 100 pounds. He still walks with a limp from his injuries. He plans to stay in the Navy, however, and has been assigned to attend the National War College in Washington, D.C.

Commander McCain, 37, is a 1958 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy and the grandson of a four-star admiral for whom McCain Field in Mississippi is named.

COINS ARE STOLEN
About $150 worth of quarters, another $375 in half-dollars and an undetermined number of silver dollars were stolen from the home of Rollin Bickell, 2415 Grand Ave., it was reported at 10:15 p.m. Monday. An unlocked side door was opened to gain entry, it was believed. The coins were in glass jars under some covers.

Schools in state stressing individual

Kids are kids, but although they're the same, they're different, too. And the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is "pushing" this fact.

This is reflected in State Supt. Michael Bakalis' priorities for Illinois education, discussed during unveiling of the revised edition of "Action Goals for the Seventies."

He listed as his educational priorities the revision of licensing of teachers and administrators, development of alternatives and options in education, and a continued effort toward providing individualized instruction.

"What we're saying is that everyone is different," the superintendent said.

The revised "Action Goals" spell out what is being done toward achieving this end. This particular goal reads: By 1980, every school district in the state should have an individualized instruction curriculum. This differs from the original edition in that the word "will" has been replaced by "should."

Several school districts are singled out in the 128-page document for their progress in individualized instruction.

For example, teachers and students in DuQuoin studied four major curriculum areas, writing a curriculum guide for each area. They also made plans for a restructured classroom use and identified the materials, equipment and program coordination necessary for an individualized instruction curriculum in the elementary schools.

"Each student learns at his own rate, has his own set of materials, is taught by learning level rather than grade placement, and no student is allowed to 'fail,'" according to the Action Goals. In the Aurora East District, the high school curriculum offers students over 600 individual courses in mathematics, science, language arts, social studies, fine arts and industrial arts.

In addition, a computer-monitored program helps students with self-scheduling for individualized courses. A recent switch was made from a semester system to a quarter system, and optional credit was allowed for evening and summer school programs at Aurora East.

An individualized learning program through multi-age groupings in an open-space environment characterizes Washington School in the Wheaton district. The curriculum is presented through differentiated staffing, team planning, variable schedules and interest centers.

At the recently opened Wheaton-Warrentonville High School, 30 teachers work out of a flexible open-space school with a variety of individualized instructional techniques.

At the junior and senior high schools in Quincy, over 900 students are participating in a "Project to Individualize Education."

Textbooks and teacher-directed classes are complemented by a series of learning activity packets in each subject area. Each packet contains several reading assignments as well as recommended tapes and filmstrips. In some cases, students have substituted independent projects for an entire packet.

New members join Y board

Election of officers and a welcome to new board members highlighted the monthly meeting of the Tri-City Area YMCA board of directors Monday at the YMCA.

Fred Cunningham was re-elected president; Dr. Chris Geroff, last year's secretary, was elected first vice-president; Phillip Heath, formerly first vice-president, was elected second vice-president; James Henderson was re-elected treasurer and Earl Iberg was elected secretary. Twenty board members attended.

Board members attending their first meeting since being elected by the Y members were Mrs. Emylee Alford, Mrs. Genevieve Mercer, John Ubaud, Paul Christiansen, Dr. E. W. Walton, Rev. Frank Chubb. Chubb was elected by the board to fill a vacancy due to Rev. Donald Bogue's moving out of the city.

In other business, a treasurer's report and 1974 budget presented by Henderson were approved. A resolution was passed which empowered the officers to rewrite loans at two local banks and make $100 monthly payments to each bank, plus interest. The loans, it was noted, were negotiated nearly five years ago in order to meet the cost of emergency repairs.

Michael Tharp, Y youth director, reported that 131 youth and adults are enrolled in winter quarters classes and that registrations will continue through the week. He also reported that some 200 girls are involved in Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, 50 boys in a Venice - YMCA basketball league, 75 boys and girls in "Saturday at the Y" program, and several hundred more youth and adults in individual use of Y facilities.

The Y Boys soccer leagues currently are forming and will begin the spring season by mid-March. Approximately 700 boys are expected to participate again. Executive Director Marvin VanMetre announced that May 3 and 4 has been set for the first annual YMCA Old Time Talent and Variety Show. Mrs. Ann Scott will chair the event which will be given at the High School-South auditorium. VanMetre also praised the Madison Rotary Club, the Granite City Optimist Club, and the Granite City Rotary Club for sponsoring special youth programs at the Y.

President Cunningham called attention to the efforts of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce to help the YMCA do some much needed building renovation and decorating. John Ubaud reported on his efforts to contact some suppliers. The month of February was selected as "target" month for decorating the main entrance and lobby, as well as finalizing a plan to replace the exterior windows.

Odd Fellows install

John Chapline of Granite City was installed as noble grand of the Six Mile Lodge 87 of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in ceremonies Tuesday night at the Odd Fellows Hall, 3906 Nameoki Road.

In addition to Chapline, new officers installed by Tri-City Lodge 1031, included James R. Simpson, vice grand; Earl R. Wright, recording secretary; Louis Wille, financial secretary; Robert A. Rouland, treasurer; Jessie Gibson, warden; Raymond Phillips, chaplain; Lowell Allison, right supporter to the noble grand; and Eud Mann, right supporter to the vice grand.

Installing officers were district deputies including Kenneth Williams, grand master; Ruel Rose, marshal; James Gann, warden; Olan

King, financial secretary; Harry Orrell, recording secretary; William Salmon, treasurer; Charles Hendrickson, chaplain; and Harvey Arnhart, guardian.

Smith chief executive of Amsted Industries

Goff Smith, president of Amsted Industries, was elected Tuesday to the additional post of chief executive officer at a meeting of the board of directors of the diversified manufacturing company. Its American Steel Foundries subsidiary includes the ASF plant in Granite City.

Announcement of the action was made by Joseph B. Lanterman, who has been chief executive officer since January 1969 and remains as chairman of the Amsted board.

He will continue to preside at board and stockholder meetings, give top policy guidance and advice, and participate in public, corporate, civic and governmental relationships.

"Mr. Smith's election as chief executive," Lanterman said, "is the major step in a planned program for the orderly advancement of a number of younger officers to positions of greater executive responsibility, and follows the company's basic policy of development from within."

Smith has been president and chief operating officer since January 1969. He is 57 years of age. Lanterman is 59.

Other officers involved in the realignment of duties are corporate vice presidents Lester T. Moate, 54, and Robert H. Wellington, 51, both of whom were elected executive vice presidents; and Frank Marold, 48, president of the company's Griffin Pipe Products division, who was named an Amsted corporate vice president.

Smith joined the company in 1946 in a training program and held several sales management positions prior to becoming president of Griffin Wheel

Company, an Amsted operating unit.

He moved to the parent company as a corporate vice president in 1960, was named to the Amsted board of directors in 1961, was promoted to executive vice president in 1966 and was elected president and chief operating officer in 1969.

Smith earned degrees in engineering and business administration at the University of Michigan and completed the Sloan Fellowship Program at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1953.

Lanterman entered Amsted's accounting trainee program in 1936, immediately after graduation from the University of Illinois with a B.S. degree in accountancy.

He was named controller in 1947, vice president-finance in 1954 and elected president and chief executive officer in January 1959. He became chairman of the board ten years later and continued as chief executive officer.

Moate entered the Amsted accounting department as a trainee in 1941, was promoted to controller in 1951 and was elected vice president-finance and legal in 1960. He was named to the board of directors in January 1961.

Trotts-Ehler nuptials at St. John United

Red carnations and white chrysanthemums adorned the altar of St. John United Church of Christ for the Jan. 12 wedding of Miss Nancy Ellen Ehler and Barry Lynn Trotts.

The Rev. Dr. Paul R. Surbey and the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner heard the couple repeat their vows at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A double ring service was used.

Miss Barbara Price, soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer." The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ehler, 2925 Myrtle Ave. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trotts, reside at 833 Greenwood St., Madison.

Gowned in white sateen, the bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her full length frock was fashioned with an Empire bodice, trimmed in Venice lace, and featured a ruffled flounce around the hemline, sweeping backward into a chapel length train.

A flowing veil of bridal illusion cascading to the floor was secured to a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of white roses and baby breath, festooned with white ribbon streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Margaret Rozycki and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Patricia Weseman, Mrs. Sandra Morris and Mrs. Jeanie Trotts, sister-in-law to the groom.

They chose identical gowns of emerald green water-mark taffeta. Made along Empire lines, the bodices were detailed with white lace and taffeta ruffles at the neckline and capping the sleeves at the shoulder.

The long, full sleeves were cuffed in matching lace and the semi-full skirts terminated in a flounce at the hem. Each held an arrangement of white mums and red carnations, trailing white streamers.

Gary Denny, a cousin of the groom, served as best man. The groomsmen were Bruce Trotts, the bridegroom's brother, Theodore Narvaez and Terry Niehardt.

Nick Mance Jr. and Andrew Mance were the ushers.

Mrs. Ehler selected a floor length, blue flowered frock with matching shoes. The groom's mother, Mrs. Trotts, chose a pink short-sleeved dress, full length, with pink shoes. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Croatian Home in Madison. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at their home the evening prior to the ceremony.

Forest G. Crawford earns Eagle award

Forest G. Crawford, 15, son of Mrs. Ruth Crawford, 2423 Edison Ave., was presented the Eagle Scout badge by his Scoutmaster, Reginald Mennerick, in ceremonies Sunday evening at the Fraternal Order of Odd Fellows, sponsors of Troop 35.

The new Eagle Scout started on the trail of Scouting as a Cub in Pack 13. His den mother was Mrs. Evelyn Grohmes. Robert Turk was his Cubmaster.

At age 10, Forest became a Webelos Scout and a year later joined Boy Scout Troop 35 with Dr. Peter Carich as his Scoutmaster.

In April 1973 he received the Ad Altare Dei award, the Roman Catholic Church's highest award for Scouts.

In June 1972 he was inducted into the Catoctin Lodge, Order of the Arrow, and became a brotherhood member a year later. Currently he is serving as secretary of the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) chapter.

During his tenure in Troop 35 he has held several offices including librarian, assistant patrol leader, patrol leader and senior patrol leader. He also has completed junior leader training course at Camp Sunken. Last summer Forest attended the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Farragut, Idaho.

His future plans in Scouting include membership in Explorer Post 6 an Indian lore specialty post sponsored by the Men's Brotherhood of Concordia Lutheran church.

Forest also is helping organize a new Explorer post, which will study the field of UFO investigation.

State to separate hardened criminals, 'light offenders'

A continuing reorganization of the state's prison system to separate hardened criminals from "light" offenders, and to bring prisoners closer to their home communities—thus strengthening family ties and re-establishing communication—was announced Tuesday by Illinois Department of Corrections Director Allyn R. Sielaff.

The pivotal point in the reorganization plan is Dwight Correctional Center, which has been used as a women's reformatory since it was built in the early 1930s. Sielaff said the facility will be transformed into a security center for about 250 men.

Contractual arrangements are being made with the Cook County Department of Corrections to house 40 of the Dwight females in the women's division at 2600 S. California Ave., Chicago. These are prisoners who require close supervision and maximum security, he said.

Twenty-five of the women currently assigned to the Dwight facility will be transferred to the department's new women's release center for females, being established in Chicago at a former rooming house for women at 715 N. Dearborn St.

Women participating in the Chicago work release program will be supervised at the facility by a staff of 16 around the clock. Except for the time the women are on their jobs, they will be in the company of the work release center supervisory staff, Sielaff said.

The remaining 60 female prisoners, all from Central and Southern Illinois, will be transferred to Vienna Correctional Center, a minimum-security facility for males in Johnson County.

Sielaff said the women will be housed in a special building set aside for their use, located several hundred yards from the men's residence halls. All residents at Vienna will be closely supervised, with all locked in their living quarters at night.

This will put both men and women at the Vienna facility for the first time since it was established in 1965.

Sielaff said the practice of assigning male and female prisoners to the same institution is not new; several other states, as well as the U. S. Bureau of Prisons, have already initiated the plan.

The Illinois Department of Corrections has had extensive experience with the plan—in an experimental program last July, three male prisoners from Dwight and prior to that, about 50 male juveniles were transferred from various institutions for boys to the Illinois State Training School for Girls at Geneva.

"Our experience in placing men and women and boys and girls in the same institution has been very successful," Sielaff said.

"At Geneva, for example, we found that the boys and girls all behaved better and took more pride in their appearance. And since this program is considered to be a privilege among the residents, nobody wants to mess it up."

Sielaff emphasized that the 250 men who will be transferred to Dwight will be carefully screened and hand-picked from the agency's other adult male institutions, and that most will be from communities in Central Illinois.

He stressed that the prisoners will be supervised closely, particularly when they are on outside assignments.

The Dwight center will have about 75 male guards and all will receive training at the department's newly established training academy for correctional personnel in Chicago.

The corrections department may utilize some of the most reliable residents at Dwight for volunteer services in that area, such as disaster relief.

The treatment program at Dwight will be "top notch," particularly in educational and vocational training areas, it was explained.

The educational program will range from remedial work for slow learners to an associate of arts program conducted by Joliet Junior College. The degree program will include such fields as culinary arts, auto mechanics and data processing. The vocational training program will also be extensive, Sielaff said.

Smith sales up 24%

Sales and earnings of A. O. Smith Corporation in 1973 were the highest in the company's history. L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, has announced in Milwaukee.

Sales increased 24 per cent over 1972, while profits were up 53 per cent over the depressed levels of the previous year, Smith said.

He reported sales for the year were $610,499,000, compared with $492,770,000 in 1972. Earnings were $15,162,000, or $3.08 per share, compared with 1972 results of $9,944,000, or $2.02 per share.

In the fourth quarter, the company had sales of $148,727,000, and earnings of $3,421,000, or 72 cents per share. In the fourth quarter of 1972, A. O. Smith had sales of $131,995,000, with earnings of $2,062,000, or 42 cents per share.

A fire in 1973 which destroyed the company's largest auto frame painting facility in Milwaukee resulted in a profit before taxes of $1,798,000 and profit after taxes of $1,156,000, or a net gain of 23 cents per share. This was because proceeds from insurance, based on the replacement value, exceeded the book value of the facility, Smith said.

Sale of the Clark Control division and Canadian Controllers Ltd. to GTE Sylvania resulted in earnings in 1973 being reduced by 41 cents per share. The loss on this transaction was $3,040,000 before taxes and $2,024,000 after taxes.

Mrs. Mullen rites today

Funeral services were to be held at 1:30 p.m. today in Macomb, Ill., for Mrs. Dolia Mullen, 91, of 2587 Waterman Ave., who died Monday in St. Elizabeth Hospital. She had been hospitalized two weeks.

Mrs. Mullen formerly lived in Adair, Ill., from where she moved to Granite City four and a half years ago. Her husband preceded her in death in February 1942.

She leaves a son, Dale B. Mullen, of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Annabelle Callahan of San Jose, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Nell McBride of Tucson, Ariz.; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Burial was to be at Vermont, Ill.

Fewer 1973 traffic deaths

Six persons were killed and 581 were injured in traffic accidents in Granite City during 1973, according to a report by Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer.

The six fatalities last year were two less than eight reported during 1972, and the number of injuries was down nine from a total of 590 injury cases reported during 1972, the report showed.

Despite the reduction in fatalities and injuries, the number of traffic accidents during 1973 totaled 1,842, up 184 from the total of 1,658 accidents in 1972.

Chief Veizer reported that the six persons killed in 1973 mishaps died in six separate crashes, while the 581 persons injured received their injuries in 496 accidents.

The report also showed that the Police Department made a total of 1,645 traffic arrests during 1973, compared with 1,725 such arrests during 1972, and 899 other arrests, compared with 867 in 1972.

Vaccine reducing rabies in dogs —but beware of skunks and bats

They're kinda cute little fellas, all cuddly and soft. But they also can be deadly. Very deadly.

That's skunks we're talking about. If de-scented, they make marvelous pets, so we're told. They also represent the number one source of all positive rabies cases reported in Illinois during the past year.

According to information compiled by the Illinois Department of Agriculture, 159 positive rabies cases were found in skunks in this state during 1973.

This compares to 16 in cows, 15 in cats, 13 in dogs, 11 in foxes, seven in bats and one in a horse, for a total of 222.

"Skunks account for the largest percentage of rabies in the Midwest," explains Dr. Paul B. Doby, superintendent of the department's Division of Meat, Poultry and Livestock Inspection.

"All skunks and bats should be considered dangerous."

Nationwide, the number of rabies cases found in skunks has been on the increase, too.

During 1970, the number of skunks infected with rabies accounted for 38 per cent of all cases in animals and 48 per cent of all the cases reported in wildlife.

At the same time, the number of cases found in dogs has been on the decline since 1955, when 2,657 cases of rabies in dogs were recorded.

In 1970, the number fell to 185. This decline parallels the development of an improved rabies vaccine.

Although there are no available records for the number of skunks kept as pets, their availability is evident through mail order advertisements.

"The only area in which the department has any control over the selling of skunks is through the administration of the Pet Shop Act which prohibits their sale as pets," the superintendent relates.

A new law makes it mandatory for all pet shop owners selling dogs, cats, fish, birds, reptiles and other animals customarily sold as pets to obtain a license from the department.

Hereafter, only those shops selling or offering for adoption dogs and cats not raised by the shop had to obtain a license.

In 1970, a Cook County couple was attacked and severely bitten by a rabid pet skunk which had shared the apartment for six months.

Fourteen other Illinois residents also underwent the anti-rabies treatment in a five-year period when rabies were confirmed in 10 pet skunks.

Because of the increasing threat that skunks pose to public health, it has been recommended that veterinarians refrain from performing de-scenting operations or give advice or direction when it comes to the operations.

When asked to de-scent skunks, or to treat them as patients, or to provide advice or medical care, veterinarians should appraise owners of the danger of maintaining skunks as pets," Dr. Doby comments.

FOGGY AREA OF I-270 caused some autos and trucks to wander from the pavement and other vehicles to collide during the weekend. SPECIAL RECOGNITION. Area Farm Bureau officials were honored for membership gains during the American Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting in Atlantic City. They included (from left): Wilbert Engleke, Granite City, Madison County, member of the Illinois Agricultural Association board; Frederick Heepke, Edwardsville, Madison County Farm Bureau president; Gerald Carney, Girard, Macoupin County Farm Bureau president; Mrs. Arnold Bohlmeier, Bunker Hill, Macoupin County, Illinois State Farm Bureau Women's Committee member; Lester Kleiner, Greenville, Bond County Farm Bureau president; Joseph Schmidt, Carrollton, Greene County Farm Bureau president; and Robert S. Young, Jerseyville, Jersey County Farm Bureau president.

Home-like state units are enabling more with disabilities to return to their homes

More than 100 persons who were in Illinois mental health facilities a year ago are living in their own homes today as a result of short periods of stay in newly developed community living facilities (CLF) and special shelter care programs.

The Division of Developmental Disabilities of the Illinois Department of Mental Health reports that 108 persons were returned to independent living in their home communities rather than being institutionalized in Illinois mental health facilities.

Dr. Leroy Levitt, department director, said yesterday "We believe that developmentally disabled persons can best be served in home-like environments rather than large state institutions. The release of the 108 indicates the success of our community programs."

"Because of this success, the department has approved the release of $189,462 to place 194 additional clients in 10 new community living facilities. These ten privately operated facilities will open between Feb. 1 and June 1.

The basic tenet of a community living facility, reports Dr. Richard E. Blanton, deputy director for Developmental Disabilities, is "normalcy." The 11 CLFs approved by the mental health department attempt to simulate the lifestyle of a normal person in any Illinois community.

During the past year, 249 persons were admitted to CLFs prior to discharge to independent living. Sixty-four of these persons are now back at home, he noted.

There were 320 clients admitted to 13 approved shelter care add-on programs, Dr. Blanton reported, with 44 of them now living independently.

Dr. Blanton indicated a continuing need in Illinois for additional CLFs reporting that many shelter care home residents could be placed in a in their home towns. A shelter care facility, he said, provides personal care and assistance intended to be "less transitional" than the CLF program.

The dinner is open to the public. Tickets at $4 each may be purchased at the local Boy Scout Service Center, 1338a Niedringhaus Ave. Deadline for buying tickets is 5 p.m. Friday, Feb. 1.

Deputy vote registrars from each party in all townships

Immediately after the primary election, County Clerk Eulalia Hotz plans to implement that provision in the Voter Registration Law which provides for a deputy registrar, from each political party, for each 10,000 population or fraction thereof in each township, she said Tuesday.

The deputy registrars will be selected from lists submitted by the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican County Central Committees, respectively.

Miss Hotz will designate where each registrar will function—presumably in their respective homes or places of business.

She is asking the chairmen of the Democratic and Republican Central Committees to consider submitting the name of the clerk in each township, city or village.

Any qualified voter may be selected as a registrar by the Democratic and Republican County Central Committees.

A training course will be given by the county clerk, in April and the new registrars may function as soon as commissioned by Miss Hotz. The list of the names will be published along with the address from which each will function.

At no time may a deputy registrar take registrations at a meeting, door to door, or any place other than designated by the county clerk.

Meanwhile, a new list of special registration places has been sent to all Democratic and Republican precinct committees and committeewomen.

The last day to register or send a change of address to the County Clerk's Office at Edwardsville is Feb. 19.

Plans are being completed to send a deputy registrar from Miss Hotz' Office to each high school in Madison County to register all students who will be 18 years of age on or before March 19, the date of the primary election.

East St. Louis Division, 200 S. 10th St., East St. Louis.

Belleville Division, 406 W. Main St., Belleville.

On and after Feb. 18, the tokens will be accepted for the basic cash fare of 25 cents on any Bi-State Transit System bus.

The token rate of 45 cents prior to the fare reduction was the same as the regular cash fare.

The present basic cash fare has been 25 cents since Nov. 12.

Law course for police

"Law for Police" will be the subject of a 40-hour course for Illinois law enforcement officers conducted by the University of Illinois Police Training Institute Jan. 28-Feb. 1 at the Urbana-Champaign campus.

Classroom time will be devoted to the Illinois Criminal Code, the Code of Criminal Procedure, the Juvenile Court Act, the Illinois Vehicle Code, and contemporary court decisions and practical problems in the administration of criminal justice.

The course has been certified for reimbursement to departments by the Illinois Police Training Board, according to Richard Cathey of the PTI faculty, coordinator.

Tuition for resident students will be $150, which includes room, meals and all classroom materials. Cathey emphasized that departments wishing to enroll officers should complete and return registration forms.

Registration materials can be obtained from the Police Training Institute, University of Illinois Armory Building, Champaign 61820.

WORLD WAR 3 AND THE DESTINY OF AMERICA

IS THE SERMON TITLE OF PASTOR C. M. O'GUIN

SUNDAY NIGHT
7:30 P.M.

The two super powers, for and against, Israel, are prepared and waiting for the count down. The Bible tells it all! Description of weapons, until recently classed as super secret, will be given with documentation. Missiles carrying atom bombs 6,300 miles, orbiting and sub-watered warheads will be pictured. You are invited to hear how USA has dug into the Cheyenne mountains and built the world's biggest "fall-out shelter" that "bursts up" against chemicals and germs where the affairs of State could be managed 30 days.

The Bible's forecast of the total death, the rise of MAN of SIN and his connection with the Common Market nations will be given.

Few things in life worry a Volkswagen.
Rising gas prices worry a Volkswagen?
The VW Beetle gets about 25 miles to a gallon.
So it costs its owner a lot less per mile than big cars do.
Even if the price of gas goes up to $1.00 a gallon, a Beetle won't develop an expensive drinking habit.

Communes cited as one way of dealing with environmental crisis

The opportunity to explore different approaches to human and environmental understanding was cited last week at the University Seminar at Edwardsville (USE) as "perhaps the most far-reaching, long-range benefit from the environmental crisis."

John N. McCall, professor of psychology at SIUE, the opening speaker for USE, described "a new environmentalism" and "positive signs" arising in the face of "grave dangers to the affluent American style of life."

McCall said his chief aim in the seminar, the first of a series scheduled through May on the theme, "Shaping the Environment," is to acquaint the participants with B. F. Skinner's views on shaping the environment.

Skinner is the author of several books, including "Walden Two" and "Beyond Freedom and Dignity," in which he proposes the reshaping of the social or cultural environment.

According to Skinner, the ideal society would foster positive social relationships, increase standards of health, provide more abundant food, and encourage individual creativity.

"The methods for achieving these goals would include communal sharing of property, a labor credit plan for equalizing work demands, and the consistent use of positive rewards for behavior which enhanced the goals of this special society," McCall said.

McCall concluded that "the new environmental perspective invalidates the assumption that man is above natural law... but as we seek solutions to our environmental problems, there is no need to pit humanists against behaviorists."

"A communal society such as the one proposed by Skinner is just one model of several possible alternatives," McCall said.

Edward B. Boden, an SIUE psychology major and one of nine presidential scholars selected to help with the seminar presentations, assisted McCall by showing slides of Twin Oaks Society, a communal group operating in rural Virginia since 1967.

Both McCall and Boden indicated they would not care to join the communal group of 50 persons who share rooms, clothing, work, food and one bathroom. But they said the Twin Oaks experiment should be studied to determine if there are aspects of it which offer alternatives in the existing environmental crisis.

The presentation sparked response from the seminar panel of presidential scholars and SIUE faculty, as well as an audience of more than 200 persons in the Communications Building theater.

Numerous questions were asked about the Twin Oaks society, where Boden and his wife visited during their Christmas vacation.

The questions concerned education, violations of the behavior code, work outside the commune, and possible use of communal technology to find solutions to current problems of the environment.

One member of the panel asked the audience, "If the number of bathrooms were increased to four, how many of you would consider living at Twin Oaks?" Several hands were raised in response.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, president of SIUE, presided at the seminar.

"With fresh questions about the impact of the energy crisis being raised almost hourly, I am sure we are all aware of the enormous importance of considering the future quality of our lives," Dr. Rendleman said.

"All of the schools within the university will try to bring their scholarly expertise and creative insight to a discussion of problems raised by the seminar topic."

Rendleman encouraged the public to attend the seminar sessions and to participate in the exchange of ideas.

"Come ready to question and criticize; we feel that we have as much to learn from the community we have been founded to serve as you have to learn from us," The University Seminar at Edwardsville is one vehicle for this interchange of information and insight," he said.

R. Buckminster Fuller, internationally known theorist, was to have delivered the keynote address for the seminar Jan. 8, but adverse weather forced a

Nine seminar sessions are scheduled through May, and a summary session will conclude the series on June 4.

Truck bid vote ignores specifications

To the Editor:
I have written the City of Granite City regarding its request for truck bids that was published in the Press-Record. They asked for "gross vehicle weight of not less than 27,500 lbs."

I'll attempt to enlighten you as to my personal feelings on this matter. I'm sure that if there were other bidders, especially taxpaying ones, they probably feel as I do.

The trucks purchased are less than 20,000-lb. G.V.W., rated, which is approximately 7,800 lbs. short of what I was asked to bid on. Whether they realize it or not, this makes a lot of difference in the prices.

To attain the 27,500 lb. G.V.W.

they requested but did not get requires adequate front and rear axles, capable of this capacity, heavy-duty springs front and rear, a larger transmission plus appropriate tires to carry this weight.

I bid on what they asked for but one bidder cannot bid on oranges and the other on apples and still come up with an honest, competitive bid situation.

If the Council or the appointed committee wanted a 18,000-lb unit, they should have so stated it.

If the city does all their purchasing by this same method, we could have a miniature "Watergate" of our very own.

One might wonder if the state or federal Agencies who help to supply the money for some of this type equipment and ventures approve of this type of bidding.

I do have a suggestion—in the future when equipment is to be purchased and the committee is appointed, they should be capable of knowing the difference between 19,000 and 27,500 pounds as far as truck purchasing is concerned.

I don't want to imply foul play or absolute wrongdoing, but there is a certain aroma that surrounds it that I don't particularly like.

Assembly awaits evaluation on future of real estate taxation

By RAY SERATI
Press-Record Springfield Bureau

The word "taxes" will always get a conversation going and Illinois taxpayers are no different than their counterparts in other states.

Property taxes in Illinois have been the backbone for local governmental units ranging from public school districts to park districts and even mosquito abatement districts.

Property taxes—both personal property taxes and real estate taxes—have been looked upon by the taxpayers with a jaundiced eye.

Last year, the General Assembly approved a resolution calling for the formation of a legislative subcommittee to look at the property tax situation in Illinois. This includes a move to freeze property taxes at current levels.

For two successive sessions of the General Assembly, Rep. C. L. McCormick, R-Vienna, tried to get a property tax freeze bill through the legislature.

Last year, the veteran, diminutive House member was successful in getting the legislation through the House.

McCormick, a member of the House Republican leadership team, known for his firebrand Southern Illinois oratory, faced some opposition. A portion of the opposition came from local level governmental units which rely almost solely on the property tax for revenues.

McCormick and his group, in winning passage of the legislation, said that if tax rates and tax levels were held steady for at least two years, it would give the taxpayer some indication as to where the local government was going.

They also reasoned that it would mean local governmental units would have to determine priorities.

However, when the measure got to the Senate, it was decided that perhaps property taxes should be studied in depth.

So the resolution, sponsored by Sen. Terrell Clarke, R-Western Springs, was adopted.

The subcommittee's findings are to be reported to the General Assembly this year. It probably won't be until after the primary election on March 19 that the meeting on a regular basis this year until after the March primary election.

Under the 1970 Constitution, approved by the voters, there is a constitutional mandate calling for abolishment of personal property taxes.

Presently, many Illinoisans are either paying scaled-down personal property taxes or none at all because of exemptions approved by the General Assembly in past sessions. Still, this is another facet of taxation at which many taxpayers show disdain.

Another area of taxation which has been causing concern recently is the equalizing of tax assessments.

This, in itself, is a long and involved process handled

Poor light can harm plants

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Ornamental Horticulturist

Sickly leaves on foliage plants are often due to poor light or overwatering. A green thumb seems to be one of the best cures.

Gradual fading of color, elongated leaf stems and progressively smaller leaves are typical when poor light is the problem. Opening the drapes each morning often provides adequate light.

When plants can be rotated to a bright or sunny area they generate a surplus of food and return to the glossy beauty you desire. If rotation is not possible and you cannot provide extra light these plants will continue to decline.

Drowning is another common cause of poor growth. When the lower leaves turn yellow and the plants seem to stop growing, then overwatering (drowning) is probably the case. An ideal way to avoid overwatering is to use pots with drain holes.

Each time water from the top and use warm water. After 30 minutes, pour the excess water from the tray under your plant into the sink or on other plants.

Instead of watering on a schedule use the finger test. Feel the top of the soil before watering. If you can feel moisture the plant has enough. When the top of the soil feels dry, add enough water to saturate the soil and produce a surplus in the pan.

Extra fertilizer may be necessary when a yellow leaf develops every time a new leaf appears. The amount to apply

Tonnage at locks declines in 1973

Freight tonnage shipped through the Chain of Rocks Locks and Canal in 1973 did not match 1972's record volume, but the 54,116,133 tons recorded in 1973 marked the second best year in the history of the locks, the U.S. Corps of Engineers announced this week. The 1972 record was 56,768,448 tons.

Annual totals for the remainder of the past 10 years were: 1964—32,911,533 tons; 1965—35,926,212; 1966—39,821,537; 1967—43,072,743; 1968—43,072,743; 1969—46,364,453; 1970—50,747,918; 1971—48,765,045.

Corps officials said heavy shipments in October and November of 1972 made that a record year. In October, 1972, the all-time monthly record of 5,591,130 tons was set. The following month, shipments of 5,054,465 tons were reported. The December, 1972, total of 5,709,115 tons was less than the December 1973 recording.

In 1973, the October total was 5,499,930 tons. November shipments were listed at 5,532,305 tons and December shipments dropped to 3,715,475 tons.

The number of vessels was down in 1973 to 68,396 from the 72,332 reported in 1972. In November 1972, 6,604 vessels passed through the locks and the December total was 5,066. Lockages also showed a decline from 9,593 in 1972 to 8,634 last year. This included 771 lockages in November 1973, and 679 in December.

Publish report on fuel, energy

The Illinois State Geological Survey has announced publication of "Fuels and Energy Situation in the Midwest Industrial Market" by Robert L. Major, a report concentrating on the energy requirements and problems of industry in the Midwest.

Major, who is associate mineral economist at the Illinois State Geological Survey, has studied the industrial sector of a nine-state region centering on Illinois and has assembled data that points to an increased use of coal and some refined oil products to replace natural gas which is in increasingly short supply.

The 32-page report, listed as Illinois Minerals Note 52, may be obtained free from the Illinois State Geological Survey, Natural Resources Building, Urbana, Ill. 61801.

Inspects nuclear facilities

Congressman Melvin Price, Democrat of this 23rd district, and chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, has completed an inspection tour of the nation's major nuclear power facilities. The tour, which took place during the final week of the current recess, included Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee, Los Alamos in Albuquerque, N. M., and projects in the Northeast.

The trip was conducted as part of the Joint Committee's supervision of AEC-administered projects. As the energy crisis continues, the committee is increasingly interested in the nation's nuclear power potential. Cong. Price anticipates that some of the information gathered during his inspection tour will aid the committee in its evaluation of future needs and the role of nuclear power in meeting them. The committee is scheduled to hold hearings in February on nuclear reactor safety, one of the central issues in the development of nuclear power.

to hold hearings in February on nuclear reactor safety, one of the central issues in the development of nuclear power.

Cong. Price has co-sponsored a bill, the Emergency Coal Administration Act of 1974, which would increase the production, transportation, and conversion of coal as a source of energy.

The law would create an Emergency Coal Administration within the Federal Energy Office. The administrator is given authority to set goals for the production and conversion of coal into energy, and to enter into contracts with coal producers. The bill authorizes financial assistance to railroads for transportation of coal, and to other persons or firms for conversion to coal facilities. Financial assistance also would go toward research and development, and pilot plants. Price anticipates that passage of the Act would result in great benefit to coal-rich Southern Illinois and his district in particular.

The bill has been referred to the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

Grant aids SIUE centers

A $14,000 grant for the first international conference on teachers' centers in mathematics education, to be held in St. Louis in April, has been received by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from the National Science Foundation (NSF).

According to Thomas C. O'Brien, associate professor of elementary education, SIUE and director of the Area Teachers' Centers sponsored by the University, the conference has a three-fold purpose:

1) To enable teachers' center leaders to share philosophies, experiences and recommendations; 2) To encourage the formation of new teachers' centers; and 3) To begin an informal network of teachers' centers, providing for the sharing of information, videotapes and newsletters.

The conference proceedings will be published in an informal bulletin.

Attendance at the conference will be by invitation, and participants will be selected from those who are operating or contemplating the beginning of teachers' centers in mathematics education and those who can be identified as potential leaders of teachers' centers, O'Brien said.

The participants will include educators from the United States, Canada and Newfoundland. O'Brien said approximately 25 actual and potential teachers' center leaders from universities and elementary schools will be invited, including Max Bell of the University of Chicago; Joan Tamburri of the Froebel Institute on the University of London; and E. A. Orsborn, head teacher of Julian's Primary School in London and founder of one of the first teachers' centers in the United Kingdom.

The conference will be staffed by O'Brien and Orsborn, in consultation with NSF staff members, with guest lecturers participating on a part-time basis.

O'Brien is director of teachers' centers sponsored by SIUE at Clayton, Mo., and Belleville. Their purpose is "to help mathematics teachers at the elementary school level improve what they are doing in their classrooms."

O'Brien said teachers' centers were established during the past year in Tampa, Fla., and Orange, N.J., and three others are beginning in Nashville, Tenn., and Whitewater and Wausau, Wis.

U. S. grant to aid disabled

The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has granted $898,081 to Illinois to help implement the 1974 state plan for the developmentally disabled.

The award was made to the Illinois Department of Mental Health for the period from July 1, 1973, to June 30, 1974, according to Gene Kelly, administrator of the federal program for the Division of Developmental Disabilities.

Kelly said $716,781 of the award would be used to make community-based grants to agencies and other groups to help develop or sustain community programs for the developmentally disabled, including the mentally retarded and those with cerebral palsy and epilepsy.

The remainder of the new award, he explained, will be used for administrative and planning services. Grant applications will be due March 1, he said, with the local grants awarded by July 1.

Dr. Leroy Levitt, director of the state Department of Mental Health, said, "We have received these funds from the federal government because of our proven successes with patient care in community-based facilities."

"This is part of our overall policy to remove patients from the large state institutions and to place them in small, modern community and shelter care programs which offer a 'home-like' environment."

CONSTRUCTION IS PROGRESSING on two new classroom buildings at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. This view shows the steel framework nearing completion for one of the buildings. The structures are expected to be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1975, at a total cost exceeding $14 million. The three-story buildings will provide general purpose classrooms, laboratories, seminar rooms, tutorial rooms, observation rooms and offices.

Expand law school

The School of Law of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale began the second semester of its first year on Monday in new, expanded quarters. The two buildings formerly were used as fraternity housing.

Dean Hiram H. Lesar said 80 students are enrolled for the new semester, a drop from the original 87 students who began in September. This is a slightly lower dropout rate than is expected for most law schools, he noted.

One new faculty member has been added, bringing the total faculty to seven, including the dean and the librarian.

Instruction in karate is now being offered at SIUE on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in Lovejoy Library, Room 003.

The Cost of Living Council announced Friday it has imposed a 60-day freeze, through March 17, on auto insurance rate hikes. Meanwhile, it will study how insurance companies' costs are being affected by the energy crisis. It cited lower speeds, fewer drivers and reduced highway deaths and damage.

Gov. Daniel Walker and his wife, Roberta, now on vacation in Puerto Rico, expect to return to Illinois Saturday.

The international monetary fund has agreed to drop gold as the base of the world money system and replace it with an average of 14 paper currencies. IMF ministers balked Saturday at a U.S. proposal to create a united front to deal with the crisis; this nation had major oil prices, said, noted petroleum consuming countries' international payments balances are being jeopardized.

Polis made by the U.S. Travel Service of the Department of Commerce name the Gateway Arch as one of the "seven man made wonders" of the U.S.

Due to the energy crisis, Americans are riding Amtrak passenger trains at a rate 2 1/2 times greater than last summer's peak travel.

To finance constructing the proposed Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Collinsville Township, a New York bond firm has agreed to buy $10,200,000 in bonds Feb. 14.

The Holiday Inn Corp. is seeking to sell its motel in East St. Louis. Several parties negotiating for the building include two considering continuing the franchise.

Nicholas Ciacio, an aide under former Secretary of State Paul Powell, has been rehired as a $25,000-a-year official—executive director of the Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission. The IMVLC, a group of ten legislators, passed on all highway bills. He had been fired for lying about where he was when Powell died and for helping remove documents from Powell's office and hotel rooms after his death.

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott plans to sue to force the President to release $3 billion impounded of a $7 billion fund for construction of sewage treatment facilities. The Illinois share has been cut from $449 million to $252 million.

New House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes called Saturday for the House Judiciary Committee to hold limited hearings and vote promptly, yes or no, on a resolution to impeach President Nixon.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica on Friday suspended his hearings on Watergate tapes and urged a grand jury investigation into the possibility of unlawful destruction of evidence and related offenses. A day-long hearing had disclosed abrupt gaps in two more of the President's subpoenaed recordings, one lasting 37 seconds and another 37 seconds.

With the Maine legislature acting Friday, 31 states have

Coal resources study report due this month

By JESTER BELL

A special task force is pushing ahead to deliver an Atomic Energy Commission feasibility study on a "coal resources center" to President Nixon this month.

Mr. Nixon asked AEC Chairman Dixy Lee Ray for such a study when she met with him Dec. 3 to discuss her completed report. "The Nation's Energy Future," Dr. Ray's report was in response to the President's June 29 directive "to recommend an integrated research and development program for the nation."

The coal resources center would pull together all known information for coal conversion. Supplementary to Dr. Ray's report, it was an afterthought that arose out of the fast-breaking Middle East developments.

Mr. Nixon wants the feasibility study for his budget consideration. An AEC source close to the study said it was due in February, but the "target date" has been moved up to the end of this month.

Prospects for the coal resources center already envisioned by Gov. Dan Walker as a billion-dollar possibility for Illinois, however, are not rosy, the source said in an interview.

The American Coal Association, he explained, suggests that federal funds for coal research should not be spent on proved techniques, but rather on potentially new ways to convert high-sulfur coal to clean fuels.

"There are pros and cons," he added. "The concept is still under study, but it doesn't look too promising."

Gov. Walker apparently learned of the coal resources center concept from sources at the AEC's Argonne National Laboratory in Illinois.

Argonne's guidance had been sought by the special task force after Dr. Ray got word from the President to launch the study and report back to him.

Somehow, communications between Argonne and the statehouse left Gov. Walker with the impression that the source was a firm proposal, the source theorized.

"The waters got muddied when we were in a feasibility study got interpreted as an AEC commitment to do this," the source said. "The facts are that there is no commitment by AEC at all."

"The jury is still out, but it looks like, yes, you could, but that would not leave a lot of money you could use somewhere else."

This reflects the coalmen's view. Quoting their arguments

IN ARTILLERY TRAINING Private Michael Lee McCormick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McCormick, 1631 Third, Madison, was home on leave after successfully completing Marine Corps recruit training. Pvt. McCormick has reported with Marine Corps Base Twenty-nine Palms, Calif. for further training in the artillery field, one of the sections of the combat guarantee that he chose before enlisting.

STORM WINDOWS & DOORS GRANITE CITY GLASS CO. 877-3400

approved the proposed Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution. Guaranteeing equal opportunity to all, regardless of sex, it will go into effect if ratified by 38 states.

against building the center, the source says:

"They look, we already know how to do this. If you use the money on this, you can't get into other fields. Save the federal money to bet on the new stuff."

According to him, the coalmen's objections "have the ring of common sense."

Whether they will prevail, however, will remain open to question until the President receives the study and announces his own recommendations. Then it will be up to congress, which holds the purse strings.

The concept grew out of the combined impact of Mid-East war, the Arab oil embargo and President Nixon's "project independence," the goal of American self-sufficiency in fuel by 1980.

His project was announced in November. Dr. Ray's report was already under way and, in fact, was due on the White House desk by Dec. 1.

She addressed herself to the dramatic onset of the energy crisis in this paragraph in her letter of transmittal to the President:

"Consideration for using today's technology to meet and overcome the present energy crisis, and to be responsive to project independence," are being submitted separately."

This was the genesis of the coal research center.

Basically, as it developed among the task forces the idea was to find a site, build a center and create a demonstration area to use the known technology.

As the source said, "the state of the art is there" to produce clean fuel from dirty coal, but it has not been economically feasible to do this on a commercial basis.

"Does this project make any sense or not?" He asked rhetorically. "We can't answer until we get the facts. Some serious considerations have been made, but the decision has not been made yet."

Open paper drive

A scrap paper drive, beginning immediately and continuing indefinitely, is being conducted by St. Joseph School in Granite City, it was announced today. Area residents may bring old newspapers and

Moss says 'no conflict' in re-election attempt

Floyd David Moss, Pontoon Beach village board president and incumbent Democratic committeeman in Nameoki Precinct One, said this week he does not feel his seeking re-election to his committeeman post March 19 represents a conflict with his post as a drivers' license examiner for the secretary of state's office.

Moss said rules of the drivers' license office stipulate that employees may not seek partisan offices in which they would receive a salary. He said he receives no money for his committee post and therefore does not feel seeking re-election violates the terms of his job.

Moss said, however, that special permission from Secretary of State Michael Howlett may be required before he can seek re-election as village board president in April 1975.

The village board presidency pays by per diem, but Moss says he is donating all of his checks to a park fund as are three village trustees who were elected on his ticket in April, 1973.

As village board president,

Moss also is the village liquor commissioner. He contended this week that he receives no money for filling that post.

Moss opposes Mrs. Lillian Singer for the Nameoki Precinct One committee post.

ENGINE DAMAGED John Ladky, 1004 Twenty-third St., reported to police at 4:15 p.m. Friday that $800 damage was done to his auto when vandals put sugar down the air filter and in other parts of the engine. It may have been done Wednesday evening while his car was parked in the 2300 block of Harding Blvd.
